

Washington Dry Probe May Ensnare Some Senators And Officials

WILL IS OUT OF

READ ANY PAPERS

(Special To The News)
CUMMINGS, N. M., Sept. 26.—
—Been away up above timber line for last few days on Jim Cumming's horse ranch, so can't tell you what I have read in the papers, for I haven't had any.
I am just plumb in ignorance as to who murdered who, who robbed who, who married who,
who divorced
who and why,
what Senator Howell produced in the way of evidence, what Grundy demanded of his Republican henchmen, what Reed Smoot said when somebody said sugar was fattening.
But I don't know, it feels kinder good not to know all that. Anyhow our news is getting just like the old movie

PA NEW OBSERVES

While the new North street bridge may not be open for vehicle traffic, it is being utilized by high school students to advantage in making the trip from the East Side to the North Hill institution. The bridge can be used by pedestrians. It is expected that it will be open for all traffic in a few days.

Pa News notes where the North Broad street station, erected in Reading by the Reading Railroad Company will be officially opened on next Monday afternoon. Railroads are numerous points throughout the state have recently erected new stations of a modern character. New Castle still maintains the P. & L. E. passenger "depot" on the West Side, however.

An East Side merchant tells Pa News that he took in four silver dollars in one week recently. It was the first time in years that such an influx of "Cartwheels" had been noted at his store. Whether somebody had them in storage or what caused them to be placed in circulation at this time, is a mystery. Silver dollars rarely get into circulation any more.

The average citizen has no idea of what the Pennsylvania railroad car shop in Mahoningtown really is. Day in and day out the shops hum away and hundreds and hundreds of cars are rebuilt and placed in use again. The work seldom ceases and even continues through the long winter months. The shop is considered a good barometer for different businesses for when cars are needed there must be freight being shipped. Now it's going full blast.

Time and time again some out-of-town driver coming down North Jefferson street has swung east on the wrong side of the public square, only to discover that he was out of place. Perhaps the city could place some marking on the traffic light that would guide them straight thru.

Mail business at the New Castle post office has taken a spurt, according to the superintendent of mails. The post office can be taken as a good barometer for mercantile business conditions.

Several new telephone poles have been erected on East Washington street, near Maryland avenue. The modern methods in erecting these poles simplifies the work tremendously. What was once a difficult undertaking, is now ordinary routine work.

Many motorists are traveling to and from Youngstown by way of Mt. Jackson, Bessener and Poland, in order to avoid the detour of several miles on the other route. "The detour is at Coatesville and is paved but is quite narrow.

In a note to The News from Gen. J. L. Myland, formerly a resident of this city, he announces that he has changed his address in Los Angeles. (Continued On Page Two)

CONTRADICTORY TOWNS IN CAPITAL CITY

Brookhart Challenges Probe Of Dinner Given To
Many Senators

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—
—Like the big oak that from the little acorn grew, the wetness of Washington began to assume the proportions of a real controversy today and the ultimate result may be embarrassing to a number of senators and other officials who have long winked at prohibition law violation by "our best people."

Senator Smith W. Brookhart (R) of Iowa, who complained the senate with a story of how flasks were conveniently placed under the table at a dinner attended by many senators, was out today with a challenge to District Attorney Leo Rover to investigate this particular dinner, which was given by a "Wall Street gentleman named Fahey."

Challenges Probe
Brookhart was a guest at the dinner, and he backed up his challenge to Rover by offering to go before the grand jury and telling what he saw. Brookhart said Senator Smoot (R) of Utah, was among the other days attending the dinner. Smoot said he couldn't remember it.

"Rover need not have any fear of stepping on senatorial toes," said the Iowa. "I'll be glad to give the grand jury what I saw."

COURTHOUSE, WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Earle Peacock, the so-called "psychopathic personality," was of a sound mind when he strangled his bride, Dorothy, on the night of April 21, last, the first anniversary of their wedding, he "knew what he was doing."

This testimony was given today by a noted alienist, Dr. Menas Gregory, head of the psychopathic department of Bellevue hospital, New York City. Dr. Gregory was called to the stand by the prosecution to refute statements of two defense alienists who testified Wednesday that Peacock was a "psychopathic personality," who suffered an "emotional storm" at the time he was choking his wife and therefore could not distinguish right from wrong.

Dr. Gregory was questioned by District Attorney Frank H. Coyle.

Q. Was Peacock sane at the time he was killing his wife?

A. Yes.

Dr. Gregory was present when Defense Attorney Sidney W. Syme read a 20,000-word hypothetical question to the defense alienists yesterday, detailing all the major events in young Peacock's life—the injuries he had sus-

Leesburg Is Agog Over Preparations For Big Celebration

(Special To The News)
LEESBURG, Sept. 26.—It has been twelve years since the village of Leesburg had a celebration of any size. Back in 1917 there was a Field Day which attracted hundreds and for a day Leesburg bristled with excitement.

Since then the little place has gone its way serenely, far removed from the rack and wrangle of modern business and commerce, a tiny residence village lying in the sun, waiting for the day when a concrete highway would connect it with the cities.

The Highway Is Ready
For over a century, Leesburg has been "in the mud" so to speak, for not a foot of concrete road was within miles of it. But the day of the dirt road is over, Leesburg is on the map, and on Saturday, September 28, the citizens are going to make "whoopie" as they celebrate the opening of that section of the Perry Highway which runs from Mercer south, for ten miles.

No more will Leesburg be isolated from the world. No more must it depend upon favorable weather to get out, for the new Perry Highway will stretch north to Mercer, Greenville, and Erie. South it will lead to New Castle, to Butler, to Pittsburgh, to the coast.

For the celebration elaborate preparations have been made, prepara-

Dies Mysteriously

Was Mrs. Virginia McPherson, pret-ty young Washington, D. C., nurse (above), strangled to death by a knotted pajama cord or did she commit suicide by like means? This is the mystery that District of Columbia detectives must solve. The last person known to have seen Mrs. McPherson alive was Howard Templeton (below), a drug store clerk who delivered cigars to the nurse shortly before her death. Templeton came from Mrs. McPherson's home town in South Carolina.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 26.—
Shortly after a lone negro held up and robbed the Merchants Savings and Trust Company here of $6,000 this morning, the bandit was captured by police about a mile and a half from the scene of the robbery.

The negro had fled the bank after scooping up a package of bills and forcing a cab driver to carry him had sped away. Police were notified immediately by the bank employees and the pursuit was taken up. The negro was captured without a struggle.

The bandit was still riding in a cab when captured.

He entered the bank shortly after the opening for business and thrusting a gun through the cage forced Teller E. J. S. ck, of Wexford, to hand over several rolls of bills. The negro darted out the door as he stuffed his pockets and dashed into a cab parked around the corner, thrust a revolver into the driver's side and ordered him!

"Go on, take me for a ride," a bystander told detectives.

Driver Complains
William Carr informed detectives that he had talked with the driver of the cab who was complaining about having to make a stop to Clairton. Acting on that cue, police spread a dragnet for a new green taxicab, bound in the direction of Clairton.

The cab sped out Fifth avenue and was lost in traffic.

Miss Minnie Wishnev, a clerk in a furniture store near the bank, was about to enter the store a few minutes before the hold-up. "It was at the door of the store when the actions of a negro stand-

The engine and three cars of the train plunged into the breach in the track and turned over.

The washout occurred near a small creek four miles west of Wadley, Ga. Incessant rains believed due to the tropical disturbance approaching the east coast of Florida caused the creek to overflow.

Five passengers were slightly hurt. The negro fireman suffered injuries which may prove fatal.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 26.—The second murder charge against Sam Crane, former major league shortstop, will not be pressed at this term of court, District Attorney Robert T. Fox announced today.

A jury in Dauphin county court found Crane guilty of second degree murder for killing Della Lyter, and he still is under indictment for killing John T. Oren, brick salesman, and his rival, who was killed while attempting to ward Crane's shots from Miss Lyter.

In his instructions President Judge William J. Hargest told the jury to return a second degree verdict, carrying 10 to 20 years imprisonment in Eastern penitentiary, if they found Crane had been in a drunken stupor the night of August 3 when he surprised the couple in the Brin Hotel bathroom.

The jury deliberated two hours and then was forced to wait nearly an hour until 7:35 last night, until Judge Hargest finished dinner.

Fox said today he did not know when Crane will be tried for killing Oren.

That garden he planted back there in the spring has produced some excellent returns, it came from the back-ache, and sprains in the arms, and the sun added plenty of burns. The blisters he had made his hands mighty sore, and he turned some pretty good dividends. But he feels that he won't be able to work for some time. He's a little bit of a doctor, and he's got a little bit of a sense. But gardeners' blisters will never quite learn that they're probably gone when they're through. But the sun that he had in the growing of things, has suffered, it's just seventy-two.

State Rests In Borkowski Case

Commonwealth Rests Case Against Three Former Policemen For Killing Miner

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 25.—The Commonwealth rested its case against the three former coal and steel police officers charged with the murder of John Borkowski, former member of the Thru, this morning. No new evidence was offered by the Commonwealth, assistant district attorney.

Defense counsel started at once to present the arguments by means of which they hope to gain an acquittal for Walter J. Lyster, Harold T. Watts and Frank Shapka, former employees of the Pittsburgh Coal Company.

Lead Self Defense. Defense Attorney Charles P. Brundage, in a quiet, confidential tone to the jury in his opening address, which lasted an hour.

"For the first time since that night in February when Borkowski died, the defendants are in a position in which they can give their version of what happened. We will give you nothing but the truth. Any other opinion, you must have to look to hold in your own mind. You have the facts of the defendants," Brundage began.

"We will show that these three defendants are employed as special police officers to guard the property and employees of the Pittsburgh Coal Company and that these officers are stationed at Imperial, Pa., and that Watts and Shapka are patrolmen and that Lyster is their lieutenant."

"We will also show that sometime prior to February that Lyster recommended Huggins for a job and that he was later discharged. Still later, Huggins went to Saratoga and he lived at the home of Mrs. Mary Blussick, a woman over 60 who had grown sons. This house is on company property."

"After some time Lyster learned that liquor was being sold and distributed and knowing that the welfare of the employees depends on good order Lyster told Huggins that he would have to stop the selling of moonshine. Lyster even tried to get Huggins to take a job at a coal mine, but Huggins replied that he could make more money selling liquor than by working. Lyster told him that if he did not stop the liquor traffic that he himself would put a stop to it."

A friend told PA News that last Monday night he came within a foot or so of striking a ringneck pheasant while driving on West Washington street near the P. & L. E. depot. The bird proudly ambled into the street and it took some quick maneuvering to avoid hitting it. It may have escaped from the pheasant farm near Harlansburg.

It would be nice if the city fathers would resurface some other miserable streets in the downtown section. The East street job is a good one and is warmly appreciated by all who drive over it. The material was laid in short order and now the thoroughfare is open again.

That good-sized bass can be caught in local streams was proven by young William Matthews of West Moody avenue, who landed a two-pounder in the little stream at East Brook Tuesday.

Are buses allowed to monopolize all of the state highway—a question that was put to PA News today. An automobilist enroute to Ohio last night claims a large bus at the Penn-Ohio line and on the curve almost forced automobiles traveling toward Ohio to take to the ditch to round the curve and yet escape collision.

East street has been improved by the resurfacing which was done by the employees of Councilman Clayton Reeves department. East between North street and Sycamore way heretofore has been a rather rough stretch. Automobilists will enjoy the improvement and will be able to operate through the street without endangering springs.

There was a time when Leesburg was an important stopping point on the stage line that ran from Pittsburgh to Erie, important for Leesburg had several good taverns and inns where thirsty travelers could regale themselves with musty brown ale and its insubstantial companions.

In those days there was the Bingham House, Cotton's Tavern and Johnson's Inn. Huge tankards of beer and glasses of ale awaited the traveler who had inhaled the dust of the road from Harlansburg over and Leesburg was famed for miles around for the excellence of its liquid refreshments. Later the taverns were closed, and Leesburg entered upon a period of civic coma, from which it is now emerging.

Parade to Feature. The school children's parade will see some 300 boys and girls in line, each of them bearing a flag. This portion of the parade will be in charge of Miss Belle Davidson. The Pennsylvania Band from New Castle, the Mercer Band and the Mercer Fire and Drum Corps will be in line.

A platform will be erected Saturday morning and there will be room for an immense crowd in the school yard.

At five o'clock lunch will be served. For this feature, several outdoor restaurants will be established, with the speakers and the bands eating in the basement of the school. At six thirty there will be Community singing, directed by L. K. Graham.

At seven o'clock there will be another speaking program, and at 8:00 o'clock there will be an Old Time dance with music by the Old Time fiddlers. At nine o'clock the modern dancing will start at Crawford's Place.

Many Guests Expected. Several thousand guests from Mercer and Lawrence Counties are expected to be present. To insure the committees against loss in case of rain, $200.00 worth of rain insurance has been purchased.

The celebration is in charge of a committee of citizens, headed by Floyd Offutt as chairman, and Hollis Johnson as secretary. The school where the celebration is to be held is a new, modern school containing four rooms. It is the principal of the school, Miss Belle Davidson, with the following members of the school board: T. W. Hart, M. B. Orr, Alex Nelson, March Boffman and James Grundy.

patronized by the diplomatic and official set. Howell challenged Rover to picklock the hostelry.

The Nebraska also announced he is framing a drastic bone-dry act for the District of Columbia, which will make every policeman on his beat a dry agent. He anticipates little difficulty in putting it through congress. The White House has maintained silence since the President's statement, following the Howell speech, that if Howell would lay his evidence of concrete cases before the proper authorities, action would be taken. STAR LORE

A LOOK AT A COMET'S PARTS. By Arthur Dev. Carpenter. As to the physical structure of a comet! It always possesses a coma which is nebulous, hazy cloud of partially transparent matter, oval in form and faintly luminous. Coma means hair and is the word that gives the name to the comet. This coma surrounds a nucleus that is very often brilliant like a star. Not all comets display a nucleus though usually the nucleus brightens as the comet approaches the sun. A very striking feature of a comet is its tail, though all comets do not have tails. The tail consists of the most rarefied matter thrown off by the nucleus and forcibly repelled by the sun.

Eczema Caused Years of Intense Agony

"I have suffered intense agony from eczema on my leg and other parts of my body for years, and received only temporary relief from other preparations. It is only a month since I started to use Peterson's Ointment, and there is no sign of eczema or itching. You can refer to me—Gus O. Talbot, Buffalo."

"I've got a hundred testimonials," says Peterson of Buffalo, just as sincere and honest as this one. Years ago, when I first started to put out Peterson's Ointment, I made up my mind to give a generous box for 33 cents, and I am still doing it as every druggist in the country knows."

Guarantee Peterson's Ointment because I know that its mighty healing power is marvelous. I say to every one who buys a box that it is rightly guaranteed for eczema, it cures all skin diseases, itching, rashes, scalds and sunburn, and if a skin doctor's money will be returned."

Great Leader of American Jews Viewed As One Whose Versatility And Supreme Ability Will Be Missed By His Countrymen

DRYING UP WASHINGTON

DEVELOPMENTS of the past few days which have included an order from the president, indicate that there may be a real attempt to make the national capital "dry."

Statements by senators declare that Washington is not what it should be under the prohibition laws. These statements only go to affirm others that have been whispered about, openly, up and down this land, that Washington is just as wet as other large American cities, and the implication being that little is being done in the national capital to put on the lid.

Certain it is that the law-abiding citizens of the nation are glad that the light of publicity and accusation has been turned on Washington. The prohibition law will never be effectively enforced as it should be, anywhere, until the national capital is an example.

There is no reason why prohibition should not be effective in Washington, except one, that being that those in charge of the administration of city affairs and the city police department are lax in carrying out their responsibilities.

We shall be glad to see some of these hypocritical congressmen who it is declared vote dry and personally violate the national prohibition laws, become involved in this tangle of investigation in Washington. There is too much pussyfooting of this nature in governmental affairs.

It is recognized that actually drying up Washington will not bring about total prohibition in the nation. But it would be an effective lesson to the nation at large that we are in earnest about prohibition, and its enforcement.

French scientists at La Rochelle, say the sunfish is, intellectually, the most stupid of all animals. Its eye is five inches in diameter, its brain measures only two-thirds of an inch in diameter, and the fish weighs 502 pounds.

A full brother of that sun-fish is the American pacifist, who believes that this country can make itself safe and help the cause of peace by remaining unarmed.

Ask the fat sunfish what happens when a thin, hungry shark comes along. This country is a VERY fat fiddish.

There are many ways of showing deep emotion. Ladies faint, Mordos curse, and great Latins make very complicated gestures. Nothing so simple would satisfy a Japanese merchant named Sans, living in Paris, in love with a French lady who spurned him. As she approached him on the street, he drew a cutlass and committed harakari, ripping open his abdomen causing his bowels to fall out.

That's the Japanese method of committing suicide when a point of honor is involved.

You can imagine how it surprised all the French people that saw the thing done publicly.

Uncle Sam collected from his repeal this year $200,000,000 more than he needs. President Hoover and Secretary Mellon are said to agree that income taxes can safely be cut.

It is said that collecting the income tax is costing the government $500,000,000 a year, which seems a great deal. It should be possible to find a better system.

Britain's National Sunday School Union, prints an expurgated "Better Edition of the Bible."

The incident of Joseph and Potiphar's wife is toned down, which may be balanced justice to Mrs. Potiphar.

There is nothing except Joseph's own statement to prove that he was innocent.

Potiphar's yarn appears in many regions. It is told by Ovid, in his Metamorphoses, with mythological characters in place of the young Jewish boy with the fancy cat and the Egyptian woman.

Ovid's "Joseph" was less fortunate in the end than Joseph, the son of Jacob.

Wall Street speculation didn't quite know whether to go backward or forward Tuesday. The day was called "one of unsettlement."

Money had something to do with it. Time loans for a definite period, were made at the rate of 9 per cent and even higher.

When bankers and others can lend money on safe security at 9 per cent, or even for as high as 15 per cent, they will not bother with 6 per cent bonds for building or other industrial work.

In time that will show in lack of employment. But money lenders will take money without effort, and the Federal Reserve will have had the satisfaction of putting this country on a basis of usury.

A talented American actress decides that she must play Shylock, and does, in London. Critics say that her false whiskers are not convincing.

Ovid's "Joseph" was less fortunate in the end than Joseph, the son of Jacob.

Millions of young women make the same mistake, undertaking work for which nature did not prepare them.

They would laugh if the men insisted on nursing a baby, without the necessary apparatus. Women make efforts outside of their natural field that are just preposterous.

You have heard repeatedly of Mohammedans murdering Chinese in distant parts of China. Today's news puts the shoe on the other foot.

Dispatches tell of the massacre of 3,000 Mohammedans by Chinese authorities.

Invited to a conference the Mohammedans were separated from their wives, then executed by the Chinese authorities.

The Moslems are said to have died "stolically."

Mexico is electing a president. Dispatches from Mexico City announce 130 dead, in fights at the polls.

Mexicans may kill each other, to a limited extent, on election day, but Mexico knows enough to close gambling houses and forbid slot gambling machines.

Some day this country will obey the laws against gambling, at race tracks and elsewhere.

Not that gambling is a sin, but that it is a substitute for effort. When a young fool gambles in a day 10 times what he can earn in a week, his real work seems not worth while—and usually it is not worth while.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:52. Sun rises tomorrow 5:52.

There are men who can never make a speech during their whole lives, but can make a few eloquent remarks just before being hanged.

Of course a street and hotel lobby and billiard room lounge always has plenty of time to talk and grumble.

When that monstrosity, the North street bridge was started to be built the Waterways Commission of Pennsylvania demanded that the creek bed be dredged, but if the city council would have the "Rosens" dam removed the commission would have the dredging.

That was a promise and promises should be faithfully kept by those who make them. That creek bed can be made a beauty spot if any one with vision gets interested. The stones in the creek could be used for rock garden purpose. People are paying for such stones now. The "Rosens" dam has been a menace to the business section of this city for over fifty years. That dam is where the ice troubles come from and how anyone can object to its removal after the best engineers have said it should be taken out is beyond comprehension. If this city cannot police that creek bed for the few hundred yards it would need it, our city is surely in dire straits. Anyhow, is anyone going to fill that hole in the dam that is there now?

How strange that nobody has formed a club to send up the newest tooth paste each month.

FAIR ENOUGH
After the little boy had hit the ball over the fence he appeared at the gate to ask for it.

"How dare you show yourself? How dare you ask for your ball? You nearly killed one of my seven children."

"You have seven children, but I have only one ball."

Seeing isn't believing in the case of the man who never heard of a radio.

The coming styles in clothes for men will be form fitting. Some of us big chaps are going to be sunk if we do not wear corsets or go on a diet. Protruding abdomens will be absolutely taboo. Omygosh!

HABIT
By P. J. Kiernan
At forty most of us become walking bundles of habits. So said a great scholar years ago—William James—who did much to humanize knowledge.

It is probable that James, in making this startling assertion, hoped thereby to scare forty-year-olds away from old foginess, and make them a little more sympathetic to new ideas. Some minds lose their plasticity long before the age of forty—others remain youthful and receptive at eighty.

Whether we admit it or not, most of us like set ways of doing and looking at things, because we thereby lessen the likeable part of existence, leaving ourselves more time for ease.

New ideas mean change—change means work—and nobody really likes work except those who don't have to do any.

Our habits are at the same time the most helpful and destructive forces in our lives. Good ones are formed in, precisely the same manner as the others and they are just as hard to break. Good habits serve as flywheels in the human mechanism and carry us through the disorganized intervals which we all encounter with greater or less frequency.

And lest we should at this point be accused of sermonizing, we might add that one or two bad habits are good for a man's soul provided of course, that they are honest and not of the Great intellectual capacity, united with zeal to serve humanity, is credited to Louis Marshall, American lawyer, social worker, Jewish leader and philanthropist, who died recently abroad. In whatever sphere he labored, his capacity to reach the top is recognized, although he began life with few material advantages.

"He had long been recognized as one of the first citizens of the city and nation—an intellectual whose mental activities deprived his heart of none of the warmth of a humanitarian, a lover of his kind," says the NEW YORK EVENING WORLD. "Professionally erudite," continues The World, Louis Marshall was also powerful and convincing in argument before court or jury. But he was more than a great lawyer—he was a great citizen, and one whose services were at the disposal of the public without thought of reward in public office. Had he cared for politics, life, as such, he might have been one of the greatest constructive statesmen of his time."

Described as "a successful statesman without entering the field of politics," the WILLIAMSPORT SUN describes him as "a philanthropist who gave liberally of his means and more liberally of himself in expression of his love of humanity. His example and his influence led many others to generous devotion of their wealth to promote the well being and happiness of others."

One remarkable characteristic of his career is noted by the CHATTANOOGA NEWS which points out that "in every movement having to do with the welfare of the Jewish people throughout the world, he was in the forefront. Yet, in spite of the drain which these activities made upon his time and fortune, he was one of the most signally successful attorneys of the American bar."

"On the occasion of his visit to Cleveland in 1924, in behalf of the campaign to establish a Jewish Theological Seminary in America," the PLAIN DEALER of that city, tells how "Rabbi Solomon Goldstein introduced him as 'the world's leading Jew and the leader of American Jews,'" and declares that "the tribute was well deserved." Under Governors Hill and Hughes, The Plain Dealer remarks "Marshall lent his unusual talents to the perfection of constitutional government in New York State. Under Mayor Seth Low of New York City he made a noteworthy investigation of East Side conditions. He was one of the guiding influences in the director of Syracuse University. He was president of the largest congregation in America and supervised the collection in this country of $65,000,000 for Jewish war sufferers. He was the type of citizen whose death is a world loss."

"Probably none of his contemporaries," says the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR, "was called upon more often than he to argue constitutional questions in the United States Supreme Court. Bonus laws, anti-trust laws, compensation laws, special franchise laws, the tax on stock transfers, alien registration laws and many international cases—these were only a few of the subjects with which his name was identified."

Mr. Marshall was, in the opinion of the NEW YORK TIMES, "a living illustration of America as the land of opportunity" for, while his remarkable powers would doubtless have made him a man of note in any country, "in the United States they had a freer course than they could have elsewhere. That he became so made himself by sheer penetration of mind and untiring application. His death removed one whom his fellow-lawyers have long delighted to honor, and a citizen whose usefulness could be measured only in terms of an abundant and gracious personality which cannot itself be measured."

The SAVANNAH PRESS feels that it will be difficult to replace "an American of such brilliance, a lawyer of such ability and a citizen of such ability and a citizen of such splendid attainments."

"He was philanthropic and his activities on lines of social welfare were far-reaching. His death will leave a gap in the intellectual life of the metropolis," says the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS, while the ASHEVILLE TIMES recalls that "on the occasion of his 70th birthday, he was presented with an address signed by more than 8,000 persons in many lands, testifying to his character and attainments. At that time," continues the Asheville paper, "the Jewish Tribune rightly claimed him as a prince in Israel and the acknowledged leader of American Jewry." His sympathies were not restricted by racial boundaries. At Paris in 1919, he was instrumental in negotiating treaties with Poland, Rumania and other countries in which the equal rights of racial, linguistic and religious minorities were made obligations of world concern and especially placed under the protection of the League of Nations.

"He hated oppression as oppression, and all his tactfulness in negotiation, and all his profound knowledge of international and of constitutional law, all his capacity for enthusiasm were all in the service of the oppressed," remarks the BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE, and the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR mentions as perhaps his "greatest contribution," his activity "in behalf of reforms in the law. He assisted by wise counsel and cogent argument in the modern effort to make the letter of the law conform to the spirit of justice. It is Louis Marshall, the humanitarian that is remembered rather than Louis Marshall the lawyer, the heart rather than the mind. Humanity is grateful when large ability is put at its service."

"Products of Louis Marshall's work will continue in their good purpose, now that he has passed on, as memorials to his service for his race and for mankind," testifies the JERSEY CITY JOURNAL. The SPRINGFIELD REPUBLICAN is impressed by the fact that "the position which Mr. Marshall held among his coreligionists was strikingly attested four years ago when a straw vote was taken by a Jewish newspaper among its subscribers to determine a list of the 10 Jews who have 'done the most to preserve and to further the ideals and traditions of America.' He was third in the voting, preceded only by Nathan Straus and Justice Louis D. Brandeis."

"Home or abroad, local or distant," states the UTICA OBSERVER-DISPATCH, "anything that touched upon betterment interested Louis Marshall."

WHEAT AND MUSSOLINI
It is said Italy's wheat crop will run 300,000,000 pounds ahead of last year. Those who visit Italy and attribute every good thing to the dictator will say Mussolini made a great wheat crop.

For practical purposes Mussolini's plan is good. Better government means always results for awhile, when there is a completely centralized authority. But Italy will some day pay the price of permitting power to get out of the hands of the people. Anybody familiar with history knows a revolution is inevitable.

HOW MAN LIVED
The world ought to be interested in the relics of man's early life dug up in the valley of the Tigris by the Toledo, Ariz. Museum University of Michigan expedition. Excavating beneath the ruins of the ancient Greek city of Selinus, archeologists uncovered the remains of a city in Opus, a city lying below the Greek city. Below Opus are the remains of a vastly more ancient town. A town where people lived 3500 years before the time of Christ.

The work of an expedition of this sort, of vital importance to the world, if knowledge means anything or has any value. There can be no adequate understanding of man's life upon the planet or his direction now unless we have some definite knowledge of his early history.

REFORMS
One reads that pastors, gathered in convention propose certain reforms in the practice of their profession. There is always much talk of change of another whenever groups of churchmen meet. This may or may not mean anything. Mostly it means little. What is called reform is often no more than a change from one way of doing something to another. Sometimes the way we used to do proves to have been the best way.

Churchmen, whether pastors or not, might be more interested in personal reformation—a change in ideas as to what life is about, a change in habits, a return of simplicity in living and a durable policy of kindness.

HE IS POOR INDEED—
Who can walk in the midst of beauty and not see it? Whose ears hear no music but the clinking of coins? Whose hands are extended only to those who are paying him something.

Whose friends are all dead hopes. Who can look forward to no day better than today. Who has never given God a chance to make him a better man. Whose whole fortune is in the bank.

Announcing the Prince of Peace—and suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men—take 2:13, 14.

"Joy to the earth! the Savior reigns. Let men their songs employ."

PRACTICAL AVIATION

Of much more real value than endurance, altitude or other spectacular tests or stunts in connection with the air service is the recent demonstration of speed and usefulness in transferring by airplane a group of trained forest fire-fighters from one district to another hundreds of miles away remarks a western newspaper. One day twelve foresters from Flagstaff, Ariz., were transported to KadsPELL, Mont., a distance of more than a thousand miles, in one day. The trip by railroad train would have taken three times as long, and would have been much more expensive. This is service that is worth while.

In this connection it will be remembered that airplanes have been used in observation and emergency forest patrol work for several years and have proved of great benefit as auxiliaries to the regular look-outs and patrols. In rough countries in the western districts where pockets occur in forests which are out of range of the vision of the look-out, the plane is especially advantageous. There may not be anything theatrical about this sort of work, but it goes into the making of the record upon which after all the utility of the air service must rely.

USES OF LEISURE

From the days of Cicero to the present, the question of stretching the brittle span of life has been prominent in interest. Diet has usually played a leading role in longevity prescriptions, but each individual is a law unto himself in the matter of diet and careful dieting alone will not insure a ripe old age.

Life is bound up in strength and energy. It is not so much a matter of how one functions as whether he has the vitality to function to the full measure. When one gets to the age of 40 it is well to seek periodic examinations by a physician.

Such service is given free by many insurance companies, so that there is really no excuse if their clients do not get their annual health chart. If a man is as old as his arteries, it is well to have such care that they shall not be under the strain of becoming thickened or hardened prematurely.

Overweight is a danger sign at middle age. Those who are seriously overweight may well have a regimen prescribed that will lessen their avoirdupois and lengthen their lives.

After all, the care of health is the best investment man can make, he one that lies behind all others. Health protection usually is not a difficult matter.

CONDEMNING THE CEDAR

A few years ago a fair expert conceived the idea that some disease which affects wheat was harbored in the native cedar. Acting on this information a lot of farmers got excited and cut down their cedar trees. Nowadays the presence of black rot in wheat is attributed to the native—not the nursery—barberry and the war is mainly carried on against that particular lenient of the woodside.

But the cedar tree happens to be one of the most beautiful of our native evergreens. The beauty of the cedar and its age-long contribution to the pleasure of those who see it are, however, a dangerous asset. Apparently it is impossible for certain persons to squelch the desire to destroy his beauty. As for the barberry, it is a most popular and extensively grown shrub.

It is hoped that before extermination of the cedar and barberry in the wheat countries is attempted the scientists who go into such things will prove beyond any possible doubt that the cedar and barberry are guilty of the crimes charged against them. Half-baked science is worse than none at all.

They stoop to folly who act impetuously on every new "discovery." There are people who had their teeth pulled to cure their rheumatism who till have rheumatism but no teeth. Government agents should be slow to prescribe drastic cures before their efficacy has been proved.

Cascarets is Good for the System

What do you do when a sluggish system tells you the bowels need a little help?

The best thing yet discovered for the purpose is still the little candy Cascarets! Take one whenever the liver and bowels are not functioning as they should.

Cascarets are pleasing to the palate, and pleasant in their action. You eat them just like candy. They work while you sleep. Gentle, but thorough. Cas-carets don't stir-up the stomach or upset the system. But they cleanse the entire thirty feet of bowels in one comfortable, thorough action that leaves the system clean and sweet; leaves you with an untainted breath, uncoated tongue, and clear head.

Cascarets are made of cascara —long regarded one of the most beneficial laxatives known to medical science. They are sweetened with pure cane sugar and flavored with real licorice. Children love them. So do most grown-ups! Why take anything harsh when constipation threatens?

Whenever a dull headache, lassitude, or sick stomach with loss of appetite warns you of poor elimination, a Cascaret or two is the most harmless form of help you could give a lagging system.

Take a candy Cascaret tonight and see how fine you'll feel in the morning—and for days after.

an active worker in the club that the ladies wanted to give her a fare-

Sentence Woman On Robbery Charge

Crawford County Court Imposes Sentence On Charge Of Store Looting

MEADVILLE, Sept. 26.—Hardly had she completed a sentence in West Virginia on a Federal charge. Mrs.
Gladys Barron, said to be a resident of near Adamsville, was returned to Crawford county and on Tuesday given a sentence by Judge O. Clare Kent that means her confinement in the Allegheny Workhouse at Pittsburgh for a term of from one and a half to three years.

Mrs. Barron, in company with Homer O'Neil, are alleged to have broken into the general store of John H. Neese, at Adamsville, on June 20, 1927, making off with merchandise of a value of about $250. They left in a stolen automobile belonging to Dr. T. B. Collins, of Adamsville, and after a "tour" of several months through the West, reaching as far as Seattle, Wash., they returned to this section, only to fall into the hands of the law.

A Federal charge involving the theft of the automobile was lodged against them, and both were sentenced to long terms in a West Virginia penitentiary. Mrs. Barron completed her sentence only a week ago and she was brought at once to Meadeville and charged with statutory robbery and larceny, in connection with the breaking into of the Neese store.

Pleading guilty, Mrs. Barron was brought before Judge O. Clare Kent, Tuesday morning in a continuation of the Sentence Court session started Monday. She was assessed a fine of $100 and costs and committed to the Allegheny workhouse for a period of from one and a half to three years.
O'Neil is still confined to the West Virginia penitentiary, but upon his release will be returned to Crawford county to face the same charges upon which his accomplice was sentenced Tuesday.

Sustains Injuries In Fall On Stairs

Mrs. Harry Marshall, Sr., North Crawford avenue, was painfully injured Wednesday afternoon, when she tripped and fell down the front stairs of her home.

Mrs. Marshall was endeavoring to answer the telephone which has a down stairs connection, and in hurrying fell down the stairs.

A physician was summoned, and it was found that she had fractured a rib, and was otherwise, badly bruised.
She was later removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where she is getting along nicely.

condition at the Rochester General

State Firemen To Meet In Pittsburgh

Convention To Take Place Next Week; Many Features
On Program

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 26.—Pittsburgh's fire fighters have completed plans for the entertainment next week of members of the Firemen's Association of Pennsylvania. Chief Richard L. Smith, who heads the entertainment committee, announced yesterday that thousands of visitors from all over the state will come for the convention here.

Chief Smith and those associated with him made an appeal yesterday for business men to decorate their places and homes in honor of the visiting firemen. He has received assurance that there will be no laxity in decorations, in view of the fact that it is the first time in 23 years that Pittsburgh has entertained the state association.

The celebration, starting Monday, is the 50th golden anniversary convention. Aside from the big parade, scheduled for next Thursday, arrangements have been made for entertaining the guests at functions in downtown hotels.

In addition, many sightseeing trips to points of interest will be personally conducted by the Pittsburgh firefighters.

Parade day, next Thursday, it is expected, will have between 10,000

Sun-Tan Is The Fashion!

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

False modesty is a relic of an ancient prejudice. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has cut it away and, in behalf of better health and pure enjoyment, sponsors the fashion of sensible swimming attire.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"— LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 250°—maximum, 300° Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan,
"It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

Painters Protest Prisoners' Work

WILMINGTON, Sept. 26.—An appeal to the trustees of the New Castle county workhouse to discontinue the use of prison labor for the painting of automobiles owned by residents of this city is planned by a joint committee of the local painters union and the central labor union. Competition by the prisoners has caused financial loss to local auto painters. It is alleged, the business of one auto painter having fallen off as much as 50 per cent.

Survey Shows

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Washington Correspondent of The News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 26.—Pennsylvania ranks second in the manufacture of electric current, the biennial census taken in 1928 and made public today by the Department of Commerce would seem to indicate. The figures reported in the survey data are for 1927.

comfort and ease

The muscles, tissues and nerves must "give" easily as the abdomen enlarges or much pain and suffering may result. More important still, is to have the tissues and muscles as "elastic" as possible when the great moment of childbirth arrives.

Countless thousands of expectant mothers for over 50 years have been relieved by the use of "Mother's Friend"—that time-tested, scientifically-prepared skin lubricant and pain-reliever which originated in the prescription of an eminent obstetrician.

You owe yourself the comfort "Mother's Friend" gives. It is soothing and relaxing. It is used externally only—gently rubbed into the skin. Clean and pleasant to the touch. Brings relief promptly. Very valuable in keeping the breasts in good condition. Also puts you in the shape for the approaching ordeal of "Mother's Friend" is on sale at all drug stores. $1.25 per bottle. Its age is a private matter

It is very difficult to discover, by its appearance, how old a Lincoln is. Lincoln believes in making automobiles so beautiful that they are always modern—so durable that they simply won't wear out. The age of a Lincoln is no one's concern—least of all its owner's. On the boulevards a Lincoln of last season and the newest model share honors equally with Lincolns years older than either.

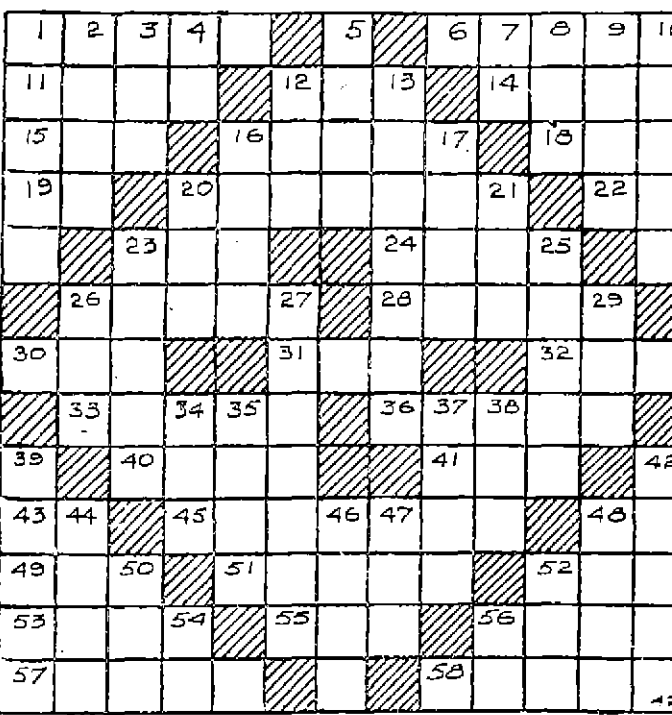

So fine is this car that a year or so of use does not perceptibly detract from any of its splendid qualities. Lincoln owners are often men who can, and do, provide the best professional care for their cars. Sometimes such well-kept cars are available at very attractive prices from Lincoln dealers. The wisdom of investing in such a motor car is quite evident, and shrewd buyers are quick to take advantage of the opportunity.

A few such Lincolns are now to be seen on our floor. Every one is in perfect mechanical condition. We are always glad to demonstrate them to you, without the slightest obligation. Drop in today.

JUICY PLUM FOR THE CRICKETS

A visit to the flower garden near Bee Villa appealed to both Peter and Dawdler. But they remembered their manners.

"Are you quite sure there is nothing more we can do for you?" they demanded of the Crickets in chorus.

"Oh, no, thank you!" chirped they. "Fiddler's wing is already on the mend, and there is nothing else wrong in the family. If we didn't have so many little mouths to feed we might hop over to the flower garden with you. But about all we can think about now is bringing home food enough to satisfy the appetites of the growing Crickets."

"By the way, what do you Crickets eat?" asked Peter.

"Vegetables and a juicy fruit, now and then," chirped Mr. and Mrs. "Then you will dine well on what I have in my pocket," chuckled the boy. "A wonder I didn't think to offer it to you before. A bite of it will help Fiddler forget his ache."

Peter put his hand in his pocket and drew out a small plum and handed it to Mrs. Cricket, who promptly bit off a piece and gave it to Fiddler, and you should have seen that young Cricket's eyes sparkle. Upon the rest of the plum Mr. and Mrs. Cricket decided to feast, since there was not enough of it to go around for the large family.

"We're off," buzzed Dawdler, and amid a farewell chorus of "come agains," he and Peter started out to find the garden that was near Bee Villa.

For all they had seen and done that day, they hadn't wandered so far from home. For they hadn't flown far before they heard the buzzing of the worker bees at their task of gathering honey. Soon the scent of sweet blossoms told them they were at their journey's end.

DAWDLER AND PETER STARTED OUT TO FIND THE GARDEN.

"Here we are, at the edge of the Garden of Delight," buzzed Dawdler in high excitement. "We'll not enter by the gate. I know a better way than that to go into a garden—over the wall!"

Skimming lightly into the air Dawdler, with Peter on his back, flew into the Garden of Delight and made a perfect landing—in the heart of a rose.

Next: "In the Garden of Delight."

Judge Chambers To Deliver Address

What promises to be one of the most interesting meetings held this year will be held at the Bethel A. M. E. church, when Judge J. A. Chambers, of Lawrence county, appears in a special address, to be delivered to the people of this community on the subject of "Christian Education." This educational mass meeting is being held for the benefit of Wilberforce University, the only first class school owned and controlled by colored people north of the Mason Dixon line. It is hoped that the colored people of the community will aid this worthy institution, and thereby help make possible a brighter day for the young men and women of the negro race. This meeting is scheduled for Friday evening, September 27th, at 8 o'clock. Special music will be furnished by the community chorus of fifty voices, under the direction of Mrs. Katherine Engle. The full program will appear in Friday's issue of The New Castle News.

VIENNA, Sept. 26.—The Austrian cabinet of Federal Chancellor Sternwiz resigned Wednesday as the result of intense political friction.

Why wait another year to own an Eight...?

You'll be out of date within a year without an EIGHT!

It's evident on every hand—America wants to stay in high gear!

The public knows that extra gear shifting and other engineering devices applied to a six-cylinder motor will not give the smoothness and flexibility of an eight.

The fine cars started it. Today every fine American motor car is an Eight. Now we find the same sweeping trend among cars of more moderate cost. In eight key states for the first six months of 1929, new car registrations above $1000 showed a 90 per cent increase in Eights while sixes above $1000 showed a decrease of 16 per cent.

Spurred on by an Eight-minded public, Studebaker set out two years ago to build a high-quality Eight that could be sold at moderate six-cylinder cost.

Studebaker today leads the world in the manufacture of Eights—Eights that are champions—holders of 11 world records for speed and endurance and more American stock car records than all other makes combined—Eights which are remarkably economical—smooth, flexible, brilliant.

Before investing in your new car, drive a smart new Studebaker Eight—President, Commander or Dictator. Measure it point for point and feature for feature against the best six that you know. Then remember—your new car will be worth more a year from now—if it's an Eight!—for Eights will then be at a premium in a used car market glutted with sixes.

Highland Avenue Traffic Jam Gone

As a result of a change in the manner of operation of traffic lights at Park and Laurel avenue, intersecting Highland, traffic has been helped and, as soon as the hand control is installed, the Highland avenue school authorities will be instructed to operate the lights during periods when children must use the street to cross over. Formerly the red showed at one street when green flashed at another. This resulted in a blockade at both lights—at periods when there were no school classes.

Councilman Tyler at the suggestion of Councilman Reeves wrote to the engineers at Pittsburgh and had them come here. Yesterday the new system (minus a hand control) became effective.

The green shows simultaneously at Park and Laurel, likewise the red. A motorist who gets a red stop at Laurel can easily pass through Park without stopping when green shows.

There have been some motorists who violated the lights and there also has been some parking along the school where parking is banned. Authorities now will give this good attention.

Butler Lifts Ban On Quantico City

General Butler Rescinds Order And Allows Marines To Patronize Merchants Again

(International News Service.) QUANTICO, Va., Sept. 26.—Everything was quiet on the Quantico front today with one victory over demon rum chalked up to the credit of the doughty leatherneck. Brig. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, commandant of the marine base here.

The ban Gen. Butler placed on this town because his marines were able to buy booze when they came from the government reservation, has been lifted. The businessmen lost a lot of money during the past couple of weeks the town was "out of bounds."

Gen. Butler lifted the ban at the weekly review. He telephoned Mayor McIntire to meet him at the parade grounds. He announced to the mayor that he was convinced Quantico was rid of "bums and bootleggers," and that the marines once more could spend their money for wholesome things.

A carnival spirit soon pervaded the town. Marines fell into line and marched behind the band through the streets. Last night everybody was happy and today business went on as usual.

Airplane Accident Results In Suit

Clarence R. Martin Wants $25,000 Damages From Clare And Annabel Smith

Echo of a fatal flying accident near the New Castle fair grounds on September 29, 1927, was heard in court today when Clarence R. Martin filed a suit against Clare B. and Annabel Smith for $25,000 damages.

Martin claims that the defendants were operating an airplane for profit near the fair grounds. The plane had been brought here from Youngstown by pilots, L. R. Hendricks and William Castle.

Following a windstorm, which it is claimed left "air pockets" Pilot William Castle, at the direction of Clare Smith, is alleged to have taken up K. E. Smith and the plaintiff in this suit. Something went wrong with the plane and it dropped. K. E. Smith was killed and plaintiff was seriously injured. His injuries consisted of a fracture of the skull, injury to left

Potato Experts Will Meet With County Farmers

State College Men Plan To Conduct Demonstrations Here Next Month

Two potato grading and packing demonstrations will be conducted in Lawrence county under the auspices of experts from the Pennsylvania State College on Tuesday, October 1, as a part of the annual western Pennsylvania grading and marketing tour which is to cover 16 different counties.

The tour commenced yesterday in Fayette county and after making the rounds of different sections in this part of the state the instructors will conclude their journey in Bedford county on October 24.

The Oscar Lipp farm in Little Beaver township and the A. E. McCreary and sons farm near East Brook will be where the Lawrence County demonstrations are held. The Lipp farm meeting will occur at two o'clock in the afternoon while the East Brook demonstration has been set for eight o'clock in the evening.

At these meetings, State College men who specialize in potato culturing, grading and marketing will show the growers what the proper methods are for grading them for the market, and which in turn bring better prices. Considerable time will be spent in discussing the marketing of the crop.

The State College men will also visit Beaver, Mercer and Butler counties before concluding the tour.

Will Reorganize Bugle Corps Of Legion Of Honor

Steps Are Taken At Meeting
Last Night To Build Up
Strong Organization

Steps were taken at a meeting of the Legion of Honor of the New Castle County, Delaware, last night to reorganize the bugle and drum corps.

Malcolm W. Cox of Sharon, who has been successful in building up one of the strongest American Legion bugle corps in this section of the state, was present at the meeting last evening and told members of the organization the factors which had contributed to the success of the Sharon corps. He has been selected by the Legion of Honor to take charge of their bugle corps and will start rehearsals Monday evening.

Any members of the Legion of Honor who are interested in joining the bugle corps are asked to attend Monday night's meeting.

Plans were also discussed at last night's meeting for the coming carnival dance, which will be held on Friday evening, November 1. Many novel features are to be introduced to make this dance one of the biggest of the year. Attendance will be confined entirely to members of the Masonic fraternity, but will include all members of the various Blue Lodges in the district, in addition to the Consistory.

The next meeting of the Legion of Honor will be held on Thursday, October 10.

Reports had been in circulation that the new "staters" would be stationed in various sections of the county but it is understood that a decision has been reached to quarter all the new troopers at New Salem.

Daily patrols to all sections of the county with many night raids are said to be scheduled.

The advent of the large squad of state troopers is believed to be part of the plan of District Attorney J. B. Adams to "mop up" Fayette county.

Infant Is Killed; Three Are Injured In Auto Crash

WAYNESBURG, Pa. Sept. 26.—Genevieve, 9-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoy of Braine, Greene county, is dead and her parents and a fourth passenger in the car in which she was riding are in the Greene County Memorial hospital here critically injured following an automobile wreck on the Washington-Waynesburg road about five miles north of here yesterday afternoon.

James Hoy, fifth passenger in the machine which was driven by his brother escaped serious hurt but is confined to the hospital.

The accident occurred on a wide bent in the road near the George Wildman farm. The Hoy party was traveling toward here. BACON—as FRESH as the newness of the PLAN that controls it

Here is Good Bacon with a capital "G"! Whether it tops off your breakfast or serves to appease the main course of your evening meal, you'll find SUNNYFIELD BACON always delicious.

There are definite reasons for the wholesome, digestible, deliciousness of Sunnyfield:

First, it is uniformly choice-cut meat from tender corn-fed porkers. Next, it is dry sugar-cured and slowly (ever so slowly) smoked over smoldering hickory logs. Twenty-five days in the curing, it is delivered to your A&P Store with the remarkable speed of A&P Time-Controlled handling. When it reaches your market basket it holds all its original flavor and fragrance. The sweetness of its dry-curing, the final flavor of the hardwood smoking process are not lost.

And when you buy SUNNYFIELD, in its unique half-pound package, you see what you are buying. The transparent cellophane wrapping reveals the even streaking of bright red lean and firm white fat on each savory slice before you buy.

SUNNYFIELD BACON, profiting by the Time-Control Plan, reaches you with none of its cherished and fleeting qualities lost. Buy it today! You'll find it as fresh as the newness of the plan which controls it.

Most Miserable Readers Can Learn To Enjoy Books

Never let him think he should be ashamed to read materials so easy. Prove to him that by reading easy books he will learn to read harder ones. Teach his brothers and sisters to read, and let no playmates have of their grade an opportunity to make fun of him. can do pretty. Make the child's reading difficulties a secret between him and you. If primer or a second grade book, such as a simple Indian story, which are not many a fourth grade child get the more nearly grown-up mean- should have aings.

book no harder. Poor readers do not read for pleasure. They may, from fear of disapproval, select library books only to abandon them after laboring with them a few minutes. Nobody is apt to stick long at anything at which he cannot enjoy success.

How often parents say of such a child: "He just won't read. If he reads at all he slips away to his room with his primers or picture books." These parents everlastingly are admonishing this child to read more, telling him to read the kind of thing his playmates read. They keep him from the only kind of thing he can enjoy, from the very kind of thing which will help him to improve his reading.

Regardless of the child's intelligence, regardless of his school grade, we should put into his hands only the kind of book he can read with materials can be selected to suit the child's level of achievement. Nor need there be the fear at home of ridicule and disapproval.

Urge your child to read to you aloud. Learn to enjoy what he reads. Lead him not to hasten. Make him feel he has ample time. He may not look carefully enough at a word to recognize it. Having often tried to imitate the faster reader, he may guess and mispronounce the very simple words. When he makes an error don't get angry. Calmly correct him and make him feel at ease to ask your help at any time. It may encourage the child for you to read a page to him and a page to you in turn, making a kind of team work.

In the home the poor reader can be persuaded to read to his baby brother or sister. Naturally easy matter will be read, and the reading will be done to entertain an eager listener. The fourth grade child who might object to reading from a first grade text for his own practice will gladly read from it to entertain a younger child. If younger children are not available in the home, the neighbor's children are.

Children who are failures in history or science are, as a rule, poor readers. The more a child advances through the grades the more his school success depends upon ability to read well. He improves his school achievement in these studies as he improves his skill in reading.

Some Facts For Delegates To State Convention

When the delegates from Lawrence County arrive at Williamsport, October 9, 10 and 11 to attend the State Convention, there are a few instructions that may be given that will assist them in getting around easily, especially if they have never attended a State Convention before.

The following are important notes for delegates:

Each county has been allotted a quota of delegates. Credentials, railroad reduced rate certificates, information cards, are now in the hands of each County Association Secretary, phone 3669-M, and can be procured upon application in person or by mail. Registration fee is two dollars, payable in advance or upon registering at Williamsport.

Requests should be made for reservations at special dinners and tickets should be purchased as soon after arrival as possible, as all banquets and special luncheons are limited, and early applicants will receive first consideration. "The Official Family Dinner" tickets should be purchased when you register.

Information concerning garages and parking of cars can be had from Local Committee. All should early become acquainted with traffic laws and parking regulations.

Lodging and breakfast can be had by all official delegates in the best homes of Williamsport at the uniform price of $1.25 per day for both.

Trains will be met by Boy Scouts or Reception Committee. Delegates will be directed to the Pine Street M. E. Church, and to places of entertainment in Williamsport homes by the Reception Committee.

American Scouts Lead In Swimming

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 26.—The important part that swimming and water safety plays in the training of the American Boy Scouts attracted the attention of the Boy Scouts of the world at the recent international Jamboree at Birkenhead, England, says W. E. Longfellow assistant national director of the life-saving service of the American Red Cross who was in charge of the water work of the American contingent of 1,400 scouts.

Mr. Longfellow who is a member of the national council of the American Scouts gave a series of exhibitions and pageants with his boys in pools in the English midland cities. The other scouts were amazed to find that one-third of the American boys wore the life-saving badge. These exhibitions aroused general interest in water sports and safety methods. Mr. Longfellow says that the American boys, owing to the accessible wild country available for their camps have a natural advantage over the European scouts who find it difficult to escape close contact with civilization.

FAILURE

Up here in the north the spring came late, And my gardener tells me he had to wait Until middle of June, ere he hoed the weeds And made the bed for my zinnia seeds.

It is later now, and along the wall Is a row of zinnias, thin and small. Struggling to master a bloomless fate But it's all in vain. They began too late.

The frosts will come in a week or two And nip the buds which are breaking through. And these thin frail plants will meet their doom For their day has passed, and they'll never bloom.

There are men and women, whose common fate Seems never to bloom, though the urge is great. In a world of glory their lives are cast But chance held them back till their day had passed. (Copyright, 1929, Edgar A. Guest.)

Red Cross Aids Many Former Service Men Home Essentials Will Be Discussed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Red Cross home service workers in chap- ters, camps and hospitals in the last year aided a monthly average of 51,091 veterans and men in uniform in straightening out their domestic problems and in the case of veterans in filing compensation claims and in obtaining hospital treatment. These figures are announced in the annual report of the American Red Cross now made public.

"Some Essentials in the Home" will be the subject for discussion at the first meeting of the Highland school Parent-Teachers' Association this fall to be held at the building on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock Eastern Standard Time.

It is asked that every member make every possible effort to be present.

Old doctor's idea still helping Elderly People conquer constipation

DR. CALDWELL made a startling discovery shortly after he graduated from medical school back in 1875. He found great numbers—especially older men and women—suffering from constipation, who were taking harsh laxatives and purgatives. So he concluded that many things people take for constipation do more harm than good, and physicians of today are of the same opinion. This thought made Dr. Caldwell conduct a search, and out of it came the prescription which made him famous. Over and over he wrote it, when he found people bilious, headachy, out-of-sorts, weak or feverish; with coated tongue, bad breath, no appetite or energy. Its action was so thorough even in the most obstinate cases, and yet so gentle with women and children.

The product you get from your drug store, today, when you ask for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is put up exactly in accordance with this prescription. It has become the world's most popular laxative. It is a pleasant tasting mixture of fresh herbs and other pure ingredients; it is a real corrective for constipation for men, women and children.

Criticism In Tariff Procedure Is Directed At Senator Bingham

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—A clash over the admission of a professional manufacturers' agent to the secret sessions of the senate finance committee and talk of an inquiry into all lobbying activities in congress today diverted the senate from consideration of the flexible tariff provision which President Hoover hopes will be retained in the new bill.

The action of Senator Hiram W. Bingham (R. of Connecticut) in employing Charles L. Eyanon, assistant to the president of the Connecticut Manufacturers' association, as his personal secretary for the duration of the tariff sessions, drew down on his head a storm of criticism from leaders of the Democratic-insurgent coalition. They charged Bingham's action indicated the Republican tariff attitude of aiding manufacturers and "big business" to the detriment of agriculture and the consuming public.

The incident in which Eyanon sat for two days at the secret sessions of the committee before being excluded, probably will lead to no immediate action in the senate.

It will be recalled, however, when the senate considers the cotton and woolen schedules, which Bingham drafted—and Democrats charged—with the aid of Eyanon. Bingham explained this employment on the ground that he was uninformed on tariff problems and took Eyanon because the latter was a tariff expert, recommended by "my friends in Connecticut."

Senator Watson (R. of Indiana), the Republican floor leader, defended Bingham's action. He also defended the action of the Republican members of the senate finance committee in excluding Democrats from the committee room while the rates were fixed. He said this always has been the practice in considering tariff bills.

"The tariff bill always has been a partisan political issue," said Watson. "It is yet."

"We've pretended to try to take the tariff out of politics," observed Senator Norris (R. of Nebraska).

"I never did," retorted Watson.

"That's the very reason why the American people condemn this bill," countered Senator Harrison (D. of Mississippi).

The clash over Bingham's action, however, failed to halt Democratic attacks on the president because of his defense of the flexible tariff provision. Senator George (D. of Georgia), Senator King (D. of Utah) and Senator Harrison criticized the president for championing the flexible tariff.

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Sept. 26.—Dawn settled over Fort Lauderdale today with an ominous calm. The barometer was varying, reaching its lowest point at 29.71 early today.

From a weather standpoint, the town passed a typical Florida night. The wind, however, was increasing at seven a. m. today. Red Cross, American Legion and other relief organizations said they were prepared for any emergency.

Florida Ready

Miami, Fla., Sept. 26.—With fear abated by the knowledge that all in human power has been done to avert catastrophe, Florida today awaited the violent tropical storm sweeping in from the sea that threatens to leave desolation in its wake.

After an anxious night of waiting it was announced that the hurricane probably will not reach the east coast of Florida until afternoon. This statement was made early today by Richard W. Gray, local meteorologist.

Gray said that the center of the disturbance apparently was stationary about 140 miles east of here. It extends over an area of approximately 50 miles, he declared, and its winds are moving at a velocity of 50 miles per hour. Early yesterday he pointed out, the storm was traveling at a pace of 10 miles per hour. If it resumes this movement he believes it will not appear on the mainland until well in the day.

Night of Waiting

The meteorologist's statement came after a night of waiting along the coast from Jupiter Light on the north to Miami on the south.

Indications early last evening were that the hurricane would strike slightly north of this city around midnight. Then barometers began to stand still, indicating that the progress of the disturbance had been halted.

There have been, however, no indications that the course of the storm is changed, Gray said.

Barometer readings all along the coast showed a strengthened position at nine thirty o'clock. No signs of the storm were apparent in Miami. There was very little breeze. Residents of the city too excited to resume daily routine, were beginning to feel a nervous reaction from their long nights of vigil.

"If it's coming, why doesn't it come on?" was the expression heard on every side.

Miami Cheered.

As the forenoon advanced hopes here were further raised that Miami may be far from the center of disturbance when the hurricane hits the coast. The barometer at 29.50 was up six points. At Jupiter's Island, 100 miles north the reading was 29.23, an ominous figure.

The fact that the disturbance is apparently stationary led some of those familiar with the ways of hurricanes to hope that it might recur and lose itself in the ocean. This development sometimes follows a lull in the progress of such a blow. Even should this hope materialize, the lower east coast would still be whipped by gale winds for a recurring hurricane always throws out tall winds a considerable distance as it turns.

With word that the storm would not strike the coast before noon, residents of cities and towns throughout southeastern Florida took advantage of the few hours' respite thus granted them to perfect arrangements for defeating the onslaught of the hurricane.

Prepare Quickly.

Never in history has any community so quickly and effectively prepared itself to meet a seemingly inevitable catastrophe, since news that the hurricane, born of violent disturbances off the Bahamas, was advancing relentlessly toward the coast which has suffered from time to time in the past from similar storms, southeastern Florida has had but one thought—to prepare for the worst.

Thus approaching dawn found thousands of American Legionnaires, Boy Scouts and private individuals massed throughout the state under disciplinary command standing by ready to give relief when the first whistling wind tells of the storm's arrival.

It found scores of doctors and nurses concentrated at strategic spots equipped with medicinal supplies, bandages and all the appurtenances needed to render immediate aid to any who fall before nature's blast.

It found transportation facilities organized to a degree of warlike efficiency.

It found southern Florida a community without windows—virtually every pane of glass being boarded and shuttered to prevent damage and injury from shattered glass.

Reeves Opposes

Dam Removal

Councilman Clayton H. Reeves is opposed to the removal of the Roseana dam. He said that to remove it might result in the city being forced to go to considerable expense to keep down stench which he forecasts will follow the removal.

He said that the city of Johnstown is forced to purchase considerable lime which is placed in a river in that city.

Persons who have been tossing garbage and cans in the Nesheannock will be apprehended and fined heavily.

Deny Gen. Pershing In Hunting Mishap

Radio Broadcast Of Accident Is Denied; Gen. Pershing Silent

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 26.—A report, broadcast by radio at New York that Gen. J. Pershing, commander of the American army in France during the world war, had accidentally shot New York Supreme Justice Richard P. Lydon in the face during a hunting trip in Scotland, was emphatically denied today, but the General himself refused even to comment. The General is now in Paris.

The rumored accident was said to have taken place at Buchanan Castle, near Loch Lomond, Scotland, several weeks ago, while Gen. Pershing, Justice Lydon and others were guests of Bernard M. Baruch, of New York, on a grouse shooting trip.

Mrs. Baruch, who is now in London, indignantly denied the report to International News Service.

"My husband and myself have just returned from our little place in Scotland," Mrs. Baruch said. "No such incident took place there. I cannot tell you even where Gen. Pershing and Justice Lydon were among our guests. I don't want to listen to any more details."

General Laughs

PARIS, Sept. 26.—Gen. John Pershing laughed heartily, but refused to comment, when told here today of a rumor broadcast in New York that he had accidentally shot Supreme Court Justice Lydon of New York City, in the face during a grouse hunt in Scotland.

When an International News Service reporter asked Gen. Pershing point blank if it was true he had accidentally shot his fellow hunter, the General replied:

"Did you ever know me to talk about my personal affairs?"

Granges Engage In Special Degree Work

Third And Fourth Degrees Will Be Put On Friday Evening
At East New Castle

In accordance with the county-wide inter-Grange movement for the conferring of degrees, a meeting will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, eastern standard time, in the East New Castle Grange hall, when the Mahoning Valley Grange degree team will put on the third and fourth degrees. It is anticipated that there will be a large group of candidates from all parts of the county in attendance for the purpose of having the degrees conferred on them.

Next Monday evening another meeting will be held at the Westfield Grange hall, when the third and fourth degrees will again be conferred on a class of candidates by the Big Beaver Grange degree team.

On last Monday at the Mahoning Valley Grange hall the first and second degrees were conferred on a large class by the Liberty Grange degree team, of which W. Francis McCracken is in charge.

This degree team, said to be the youngest in the state, put on the degree work in such a finished manner as to receive general and generous praise from the large crowd in attendance. Mrs. McCulloch of Newton Grange, Cumberland county, Pa., mother of County Agent H. R. McCulloch, was a special guest of the occasion.

When these meetings have been completed it is planned to hold another big meeting at some Grange yet to be designated, when the fifth degree will be put on by one of the degree teams of the county.

MRS. RUSSELL DANIELS

"I had indigestion for more than a year," said Mrs. Russell Daniels, 11, E. D. No. 2, Uniontown, Pa., "and at times it was so acute that I could hardly bear the pain. What little I did eat soured and fermented in my stomach, causing gas and bloating that made my heart palpitate wildly. Finally I became nervous and had trouble sleeping. Impressed by the many endorsements of Konjola, I decided to give it a trial. After two bottles of this medicine my food digested perfectly. This seemed incredible, but as I continued with Konjola I felt better in every way. I had no idea that there could be such a medicine as Konjola and I heartily endorse it to all who suffer as I did." THE NEWS BY MAIL, ONE YEAR, $5.00

I want to tell you how I coaxed him to eat—

If you are tired — lack pep — if your skin is not clear — if your appetite is "poor" — you owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S.

"Once I was worried."

Mealtime was getting on my nerves. I prepared many appetizing dishes, but John simply would not eat—just "minced" at his food. Perhaps sometimes a little grouchy. What was I to do? Love, home, happiness, business success—all depended upon an improvement in his condition. The blood tonic idea suggested itself to me. My Druggist recommended S.S.S. He told me that S.S.S. was a great blood tonic; that it had been successful for over 100 years; that it was made from fresh vegetable drugs and would not harm the most delicate system. Also that it would build up the blood and improve the processes by which the body is nourished. I brought home a large size bottle. John agreed to try it. Well, in just a few days I could see the difference. His improvement has been so rapid he is going to take several more bottles, and not only that, but he is now telling his friends to take S.S.S.

Rich, red blood builds sturdy health

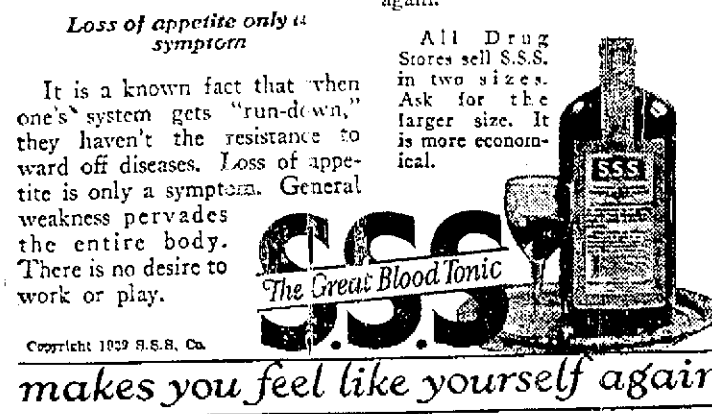

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

When you get your blood cells back up to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, rheumatism, boils, pimples, and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again, sleep soundly; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady.

S.S.S. is daily helping people regain their strength and charm. Thousands of users have testified to its benefits in unsolicited letters of gratitude. It helps Nature build red-blood-cells. It gives to Nature what it needs in making you feel like yourself again.

Loss of appetite only a symptom

It is a known fact that when one's system gets "run-down," they haven't the resistance to ward off diseases. Loss of appetite is only a symptom. General weakness pervades the entire body. There is no desire to work or play.

Program Planning Dinner Event Held

Dinner Event Wednesday Evening In Mahoning Presbyterian Church

A tureen dinner, known as a program planning dinner was held in the Mahoning Presbyterian church dining room Wednesday evening. The event was for officers of the church and Sunday school. Approximately sixty persons were in attendance. The dinner was at 7:30 and an elaborate menu was enjoyed. Selections were played by the Sabbath school orchestra during the evening.

Following the dinner there was a discussion of the affairs of the church in general. Each person present had the opportunity to write on a slip of paper some suggestion that would be a benefit to the church or Sunday school. After the papers had been collected they were read and their good points discussed. It is thought many of the suggestions were valid and they will be put to use to help in the up-building of the church.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the dinner comprised the president of the Willing Workers, Mrs. W. F. McClurg and a committee of six, comprised of Mrs. F. W. Guy, Mrs. W. C. Patterson, Mrs. D. E. Bender, Mrs. G. H. Cook, Mrs. William Horchler and Mrs. E. E. Rhodes. These ladies were wives of elders, trustees and deacons in the church.

Drought Fails To Kill New Shubbery

Most Of Vines And Shrubs Planted In Spring Come Through Dry Spell

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Sept. 26.—At least 65 per cent of the vines and shrubs planted last spring have withstood the long drought of the summer months John W. Keller, forester of the Department of Highways reported today after an inspection of all the work.

Keller said that his reports show more than 100,000 creeping vines and 50,000 shrubs of various types survived the drought and are sufficiently advanced to permit them to withstand the winter.

The roadside planting movement was aided by distribution of 83,600 worth of plants from interested individuals and organizations. The planting was done by the forces of the department which has assumed responsibility for future maintenance.

In addition to the seasonal planting done by the department all natural growth has been retained where conditions permitted. By careful pruning of many native shrubs and trees which grew by the roadside, the need for planting in some locations was removed.

Another activity of the forestry division was the cutting of trees and shrubs which blocked beauty vistas along the highways. At hundreds of points where it was necessary for nature lovers and photographers to leave their cars to obtain views of the scenery trees and shrubs have been cut.

Issues Statement In Regard To Fire

Says He Did Not Send Phone Message Personally To Firemen

Floyd N. Jones of West Washington street, extension, who suffered a loss of $450 when fire destroyed a chicken-coop and double garage at his place of residence Tuesday, issued a statement today in regard to the situation as follows:

To Whom It May Concern:

I wish to state that the call for assistance of the city fire department was not made by me personally but was sent in by one of the high school boys.

And I was not aware of the fact of the statement made to Captain Ray until Fire Chief Lynn came to my home about one and a half hours after the call had been sent in.

Had the fire department come to our assistance my garage and one chicken house would have been saved. I owe all my thanks for assistance to the neighbors and to the principal and the boys of Union high school. (Signed) FLOYD N. JONES, W. Washington St. Bldg., New Castle, Pa.

"For more than a year I had eczema on my hands, arms and head. It started with small red bumps and itched and turned so badly that it was impossible not to scratch. Scratching caused sore eruptions and itching my hands in water made them much worse. I was unable to do my regular work. My hair was lifeless and fell out easily. I could not sleep or rest night or day and was miserable."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I purchased more and in two months I was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Frank L. Sheerer, R. F. D. 1, Kennard, Pa., Feb. 8, 1929.

Pennsylvania Car Shop Operates At Capacity; Employs Three Hundred

Activity Galore As Old Freight Cars Undergo Repairs Here

PENNSY HAS ONLY TWO SUCH SHOPS FOR SYSTEM

(By BRUCE EWING)

A force of 330 men—strippers, burners, fitters, riveters, woodworkers, air brake adjusters, painters—is continually at work rebuilding hundreds of crippled railroad gondola cars at the Mahoningtown car shop of the Pennsylvania Railroad, while New Castle goes about as usual, to a great extent unaware of the vast amount of work that goes on there.

Stories might be penned about the reconstruction work but to one who has never visited the shops mere words could not justly describe its true immensity. When you realize that only two such shops, the other at Erie, are maintained by the entire Pennsylvania system for the upkeep of their crippled cars, you then get a fair idea of the repair work the Mahoningtown shop must do.

Already this month exactly 294 cars have been renovated and distributed, or "kicked off" as the shop men say, to points on the system, some near and others distant. Today there are 125 cars awaiting to be painted and 120 on which the old arch bar trucks are to be removed and new steel solid-piece frames set in their place. This month's output, according to officials, runs somewhat short of the month just previous. Indications, however, point to considerable work this fall.

J. S. Richards, master mechanic of the Erie and Ashtabula division, is in charge at the Mahoningtown shops. Speaking of the condition of the work he stated that the quota of men working varies to a certain extent, depending entirely on the amount of work to do. Work commences at the shops at seven o'clock in the morning and continues through until 3:30.

The company has well an established program by which the cars are repaired. Everything is systematic and is carried out with clock-like precision from the very start of the rebuilding process till everything has been completed. Over one siding all cars first go, there to be treated at the hands of the strippers. These men dismantle the worn out parts and use special care in seeing to it that no good section is scrapped. The siding over which they are taken is elevated somewhat from the ground, so that the scrapped wood can be burned just as soon as it is torn from the car. The good planks are piled neatly on the opposite side of the track, for use again.

Motorists passing near the shops at the end of the Mahoning river bridge on the Beaver Falls road, of late no doubt have seen the fires which destroy the wood that can be used no more.

From the stripping process the cars then go to various other departments. First to the burners and fitters—up, then the riveters do their work. When everything is riveted the woodworkers get the car and the wooden floor is placed. Air brake men who adjust delicate brake equipment handle the gondola next and finally the painters get it. A standard red color is used, sprayed on, not painted by hand.

Each department does its work speedily and efficiently. For instance, spikes used in fastening the wooden floor are pounded in with an automatic driver which lays an entire floor in hardly no time at all.

About six days are required for the men to complete the process, and probably a day or so remains for the paint on the car to dry. Two coats of paint are sprayed on, the first on the boards before they are fastened on the sides. Then when the car comes to the painters but one more coat must be added, and thereby one entire day is saved.

Cars, like most everything, wear out in time and so there is always a line of cars remaining to be scrapped and rebuilt. Three hundred are on side tracks waiting for the process at the present time.

Cars overhauled by the Mahoningtown shops are known as the GRS-GRA cars, or mill type gondolas with solid floors, drop ends and steel underframes. In the past year, officials declare, the output of the local shops have been more than doubled, and with the greater output comes the need for a larger force of men.

Safety first is something that gets constant attention there and while the work is slightly dangerous in character no injuries have been reported for some time. All accidents are called to the attention of the men to more firmly impress upon them the importance of using care. The campaign against injuries is universal in every shop, office and on every line of the Pennsylvania system.

Not long ago a workman saved his sight wholly because he obeyed the rules. It is a requirement that special safety goggles be worn when dangerous work is under way. It happened that in this case something flew, striking the man's goggles a severe blow. The glass was shattered but the piece of steel failed to penetrate it. Now these goggles showing just what happened are in front rank display with the safety bulletin.

Nearly five hundred families are represented when the forces of the shops and enginehouse nearby are combined. It is said that most of them live in New Castle while others come from surrounding towns.

Something which gets the stranger's attention is the fact that very little waste material is to be seen about. While the work is being done every spare part is thrown on the ground and the company maintains a special force which keeps gathering the scraps. Economy is foremost in the minds of the workmen, and every particle of steel or wood that it is possible to save is placed away or repaired so that it can be used again.

Ellwood City High To Open Grid Season Saturday Afternoon

By TONY PASTA)
ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 26.—With the opening battle of Saturday, for the 1929 football season, nearing rapidly, Coach Lee is rounding his Ellwood City High school football squad into first class shape. Zelig, who will be the attraction at the Tubers' inauguration the 1929 football season on the local field this Saturday.

Lee and his two assistants, Ingle and Bartholomew, have been putting forth all possible efforts, to make the first game a victory and an impressive one. Daily drills with occasional scrimmages are being used to determine each man for a berth on the first string.

From all indications, it appears that Kink will start as fullback, Justice and Pashin on half-back position and Cross will call signals. Pashin seems to be getting plenty of opposition from Howe for the half-back berth. On the line Bill McKim will probably start at center post, Rocco and Wehman, guards and Emilek and Welsh tackles. Bartle and Neff loom as holders of the wing positions.

Ellwood City football fans are eagerly awaiting the whistle which will start the first contest. It will be no cinch for the blue and white eleven as the Butler County team proved to be plenty tough last year, and Coach Todd Loyd promises a battle this year. Final preparations are being made with the preparing of the bleachers and erection of steel goal posts. Arrangements have also been made for twelve boy scouts to help take care of the expected crowd. Allright Ellwood! Let's Go!

Dies In 200-Foot Fall Off Hangar

Bridge Worker Is First To Lose
Life In Building Of Zep
Structure

AKRON, O., Sept. 26.—C. O. Brown, 37, an expert bridge worker plunged 200 feet to his death from the top of the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corp's partly completed dirigible hangar at the Akron Municipal airport Wednesday.

Brown went to his death as the end of a 30-foot piece of structural steel suddenly snapped back and struck him while it was being hoisted with a derrick.

The worker's death marked the first accident so far during construction of the hangar which is to be the largest building without interior supports in the world.

More than 150 fellow workmen who were also on top of the massive hangar saw Brown thrown downward after he clutched wildly to retain his footing.

Brown fell at the north end of the structure. The piece of steel was being slowly hoisted to position by means of a large derrick mounted on top of the hangar.

As the steel neared the workmen it became entangled in the network of girders and the men were busily engaged in freeing it. One end of the steel had been piled loose as the other struck Brown.

Brown's death was declared purely accidental by Goodyear-Zeppelin officials who added that every precaution has been taken to prevent mishaps.

Brown's body was removed to a funeral home from where it is to be shipped tomorrow to his home in Gainesville, Fla.

Brown who was unmarried was employed by the American Bridge Co. and came here September 9 from Sherrill Pa. He leaves his mother Mrs. Rose Brown of Gainesville.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Story Of The World War
1914—The New Russia And The World War

AFTER THE REVOLUTION OF MARCH, 1917, WHICH RESULTED IN THE OVERTHROW OF THE CZAR AND HIS GOVERNMENT, MANY RUSSIANS BELIEVED THAT RUSSIA SHOULD WITHDRAW FROM THE WORLD WAR. THE RUSSIAN PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT FELT OBLIGATED TO STAND BY THE ALLIES. THE SOVIET WAS IN FAVOR OF AN IMMEDIATE PEACE.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT, NEEDING POWER TO ENFORCE ITS DECREES, SOUGHT TO CONTROL THE ARMY THROUGH THE MILITARY LEADERS. IN ORGANIZING THE NEW GOVERNMENT, THE DUMA HASTENED TO SECURE ASSURANCES OF SUPPORT FROM THE RUSSIAN GENERALS AT THE FRONT.

THE SOVIET LOOKED FOR HELP NOT TO THE OFFICERS BUT TO THE SOLDIERS. MARCH 15, 1917, THE SOVIET PASSED THE FAMOUS "ORDER NUMBER ONE," WHICH CREATED COMMITTEES OF SOLDIERS IN EVERY ARMY UNIT TO PASS UPON ALL ORDERS RECEIVED FROM THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.

THE SOLDIERS WERE INSTRUCTED NOT TO OBEY ANY GOVERNMENT ORDER THAT EITHER CONFLICTED WITH THOSE OF THE SOVIET OR WAS DISAPPROVED BY THE SOLDIERS' COMMITTEE. SOVIET ORDER NUMBER ONE PRACTICALLY NULLIFIED THE AUTHORITY OF THE OFFICERS, AND COMPLETED THE WRECK OF DISCIPLINE IN THE RUSSIAN ARMY.

RAYEN HIGH WILL BRING STRONG TEAM

Locals To Get Acid Test In Battle Friday

New Castle High Football Team Faces Strong Rayen High Crew Friday Night

FORWARD PASSING TO PLAY BIG PART

By "BUGS" WALTHER

COACH PHILIP H. BRIDENBAUGH'S New Castle High team will have a lot of football to play Friday night. Rayen High, Youngstown will be the opponents.

For the second game of the season at Franklin Field the locals are biting off a big chunk. The game will start at 8:30 o'clock. An immense crowd is indicated. Youngstown will send many here for the grid battle.

Hard At Work

Both teams have been hard at work this week, perfecting little details that cropped up in the opening tilt. New Castle dusted off Grove City 13 to 0, and Rayen handed Weir High of Weirton, West Virginia, a beating 21 to 6. The Ohioans have the ignominy of having their goal line punctured already this year. New Castle kept the state clean in the first tilt, by hard work. Keeping Rayen from the last chalked line on the field is going to be a different thing.

"A battle in the clouds" is the aspect. Both teams are featuring some clever forward passes this year. Ralph "Red" McAuley is tossing them for New Castle, and hurls a mean pigskin. Just who throws them for Rayen is not definitely known. He must be busy however, as the Rayen team tried about ten in the first game, and completed the biggest part of them.

"Bridy" Not Satisfied

Coach Bridenbaugh was not altogether satisfied with the line play against Grove City, and this week has gone about perfecting a better defense. The offense worked well. The ball carriers last Friday night had very little trouble in negotiating behind splendid interference. McAuley, Hannon, and Alexander are being looked upon to carry the burden Friday night, in the matter of scouting around the ends. Merle "Red" McIntosh will have the heavy work to do, or the plunging of the line.

The Rayen High backfield composed of Farrar, Cumisky, Flauto, and Jim Smith is good. Rayen has a rather big line, and a few veterans from last year.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner has been busy this week, looking over Franklin Field and will have more ticket windows for the customers on Friday night. The congestion last week was terrible. Two more ticket booths will be installed on DuShane street, at both ends of the big concrete stands.

This is the patriotic time of year, when millions of self-sacrificing Americans begin to think about going on the ticket for the good of the community.—The San Bernardino Sun.

New Castle High Met Rayen In First Grid Battle In Year 1892

New Castle High School Football Is Thirty-Seven Years Old Says "Dal" Hildebrand

Game Was Played In Youngstown; Rayen Victors 12-0; Times Have Changed

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Thirty-seven years ago on November 7, 1892, the New Castle High school football team was first organized. Strangely it is that Rayen High of Youngstown was the first opponent for a red and black team. Tomorrow night at Franklin field Rayen High and New Castle meet again.

"Dal" Hildebrand, of Court street, today made known to the writer the fact that the first football game New Castle High ever played was over in Youngstown, at the old Fair grounds, and that Rayen High was the opposition. Many of the New Castle boys who played in that memorable game have passed away.

The High School building in those days was located at the corner of East and North streets, which is now being used as a grade school. The trip to Youngstown was made on the train, and it took quite a long time. It was a long trip in those days for a football team to make. The uniforms worn by the players would have caused a laugh nowadays, just any old kind of a uniform satisfied the football inclined.

Rayen High sent a challenge to New Castle. The challenge was accepted. But New Castle didn't as yet have a football team. Well, the boys got together and formed a team. No coach was on hand to teach them; they taught themselves. They had signals and everything. No forward passing, just get the ball and tear along as best you could. No head gear to protect you, it must have been fun in those days to play football.

The New Castle team lost the game 12 to 0. The red and black team almost scored when George Muse drop-kicked one, but it didn't count, for some unknown reason. This was the beginning of football in High School in New Castle. Times have changed quite a bit.

Had Some Lineup
On that first New Castle team were the following: right-end, Roy Long; right-tackle, Francis McConnell; right-guard, George Bonds; center, "Dal" Hildebrand; left-guard, Harry Rice; left-tackle, Fred Ott; left-end, Bill Butler; quarterback, Frank Scherger; left-half, Fred Wilder; right-half, Dr. Samuel Perry; full-back, Attorney George Muse.

Muse was the captain of the New Castle team in the first battle. The Rayen team outweighed the locals, by several pounds. You played football in those days just for the fun of it. The crowds were few and far between.

Of the team that met Rayen High that afternoon on November 7, 1892, the following are still living: Roy Long, "Dal" Hildebrand, Harry Rice, Bill Butler, Frank Scherger, Samuel Perry and George Muse.

How did they obtain a football in those days? Well according to Mr. Hildebrand they took up a collection and paid for it. Imagine the players buying the football and all their own equipment, yes, things are different now.

Soccer Team Will Play On Saturday

The New Castle Soccer team having been admitted to the Beaver County League, will open the season on Saturday afternoon at Midland, according to an announcement made today by Manager James.

The locals will practice tonight at Scotland Lane field, at 6 o'clock. The New Castle team has held several practice sessions lately and are in good condition for the opening game.

New Castle was taken into the league at a meeting held at Ambridge on Wednesday night. At a recent meeting of the team J. Jones, Jr., was made manager and secretary; D. M. Arnold was elected chairman and J. Jones, Jr., was elected captain pro-tem.

Two New Ticket Booths Opened

Ralph H. Gardner, today made the announcement that two new ticket windows have been installed at Franklin Field. The new windows have been placed at each end of the big concrete stand.

There will be three ticket windows on DuShane street, one on Division street and one on Cunningham avenue.

At the Division street and Cunningham avenue entrances there will be no concrete stand tickets sold. Tickets on sale at these windows will be for the west side and ends of the field.

Holders of concrete stand reserved seats may enter the field tomorrow night at any of the gates.

Gardner said that upwards of 4,000 tickets for the game have been sold, but that there is quite a large number yet to be disposed of.

Lehigh-National Tube Teams Will Battle Tonight

Manager Fred Flynn To Take Lehigh Team To Ellwood City For Series Game

Tonight, at Ewing Park, Ellwood City, weather allowing, the Lehigh Portland Cement team, winners of the first game of the championship series for the Lawrence County League title, will meet the Specialty department team of the National Tube company. The game will start at 8 o'clock P. M.

The locals came through with a brilliant 12 to 10 victory at the Lehigh ball orchard on Tuesday evening, and they hope to repeat the dose tonight, and take the series. Manager Lattano and his Specialty team have other ideas regarding tonight's game, and they are going after a victory.

Rich and Patterson will likely be the opposing pitchers again tonight. Rich hurled a fine game Tuesday and got good support. Patterson did not receive such good support.

Quite a crowd of Lehigh followers are planning to journey to Ellwood City tonight for the game. The ball park is located just this side of Ellwood City, and can be seen from the highway.

Grove City High Is Seeking Game For October 26

Grove City high school would like to schedule a football game with any first-class high school for October 26. This open date is caused by cancellation of an opponent, and Coach Hartman would like to arrange a good home game for this day. Any high school in western Pennsylvania or eastern Ohio which is interested write or call Joe Hartman.

Grove City high has dropped only five games out of the 19 played in the last two years, three of these being to the always strong New Castle outfit.

In 1927 the Hartman men were Mercer county and northwestern Pennsylvania champions, and last year were runners-up for the county title. This year it looks as if they will have the strongest team for years to put on the field against such teams as Erie Academy, Vandergrift and Sharpton.

Baseball World Mourns For Late Miller Huggins

Famous Manager Of New York Yankees Dies Of Infection In New York Hospital

HAD WIDE CAREER ON BALL FIELD

(International News Service.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees, died at St. Vincent's hospital at 3:15 Wednesday afternoon.

Hug had been in the hospital since Friday suffering from influenza and erysipelas.

The face infection, which first affected the veteran baseball idol, would have been easily overcome were it not for the weakened condition in which the end of an unfortunate season for his Yankees found him.

Relatives At Bedside

Miss Myrtle Huggins and her brother Arthur, Hug's nearest relatives, were at the bedside this afternoon as reports came from the sick room that the Yankee manager was very low.

Dr. Edward A. King Huggins' personal physician, remained at the bedside throughout last night and today. Three blood transfusions had been given Huggins in the effort to stem the infection and bolster his weakened vitality. He became unconscious during the morning.

Huggins' pastor, Rev. Mr. Price, a Methodist Episcopal clergyman, visited him in the morning.

Huggins Loved Baseball

Miller James Huggins was born in Cincinnati, March 27, 1880, and spent his childhood and youth in the Ohio town. It was there that he first learned the principles of baseball, playing the game on the Cincinnati sandlots.

Ever a midget in size, Hug made his spirit count for the lack of poundage and became a regular at the University of Cincinnati where he studied law. At the end of his college career he was offered a baseball job and for some time he was torn between the two loves. Baseball finally won however, and in 1909 he signed a contract with the Mansfield, O., club and since that time he had never been out of baseball.

He went with the St. Paul club in 1900 and remained there for four years as a second baseman.

Huggins broke into the big leagues with the Cincinnati club where he remained for years, finally going to St. Louis where he assumed the management of the Cardinals.

Uncovered Hornsby

Once he went to St. Louis, Hug quit active play entirely and devoted his time to managing the club. At St. Louis he met with success, taking his club to third place, which was the highest position a Cardinal club had ever held in all previous baseball history.

It was in St. Louis too, that Hug brought up Rogers Hornsby—his most important baseball discovery. Hornsby, a raw kid in Texas, was for sale for $500, and after a great deal of argument and haggling, Huggins prevailed on the St. Louis owners to buy him.

To this day, Hornsby not only gives Huggins credit for discovering him, but for developing his batting style as well.

Not All Roses For Matchmakers

The following article clipped from the Beaver Falls Tribune today, tells a story in itself. Matchmaking is not an easy job, one district man has found that out.

Ray Fouts of Wellsville, O., is no longer connected with the Junction City A. A new matchmaker will be obtained within the next few days, according to Ben Riley. Fouts will renew his association as boxing promoter at Wellsville, O.

The result of the meeting will have an important bearing on the series being played by the Danceland and Energy teams of the league for the league championship.

Loughran-Sharkey To Fight Tonight

New Heavyweight Contender Will Be Crowned Tonight In Yankee Stadium

Tommy Loughran Is Favored To Win; Sharkey May Surprise Experts This Time

(By DAVIS J. WALSH, Editor International News Service Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—This year of grace—but not too much—in heavy-weight boxing will attempt to die with at least its house slippers on tonight with a fifteen round finale between Tommy Loughran and Jack Sharkey at the Yankee Stadium, the event being 1929's gift to posterity. It will end the first outdoor season of the modern age in which the million-dollar heavyweight title has no owner and, so far as anyone knows, this parlous state of affairs still will prevail when the last chink is unraveled this evening.

There is no champion to defend the title; there probably will be none tomorrow morning. There may even be no fight, rain being indicated by the forecast.

Sharkey Is Stand-out

Sharkey perhaps is the stand-out in a field of rather dubious contenders and Loughran, making his first fight as a heavyweight after a remarkable career as welterweight of the class below, can hardly hope to win a championship on one performance against a man who is not the champion. That would seem to be logic and the Muldoon-Tunney committee, hugging its masterpiece in its bosom, probably is prepared to be defiantly logical.

This sterling body of men is likely to be moved by only one circumstance. If either man wins by a knockout, the committee might be stampeded into rendering unto him the things that were Tunney's. The committee could do worse. Anything as definite as a knockout tonight could mean only that the man who lands it is the absolute class of his division.

Winner Gets Schmeling

As it is, the man who wins either by a decision or on a foul will have none save Schmeling to say him nay. The rest of them don't seem to figure. This makes tonight's affair a sort of hybrid championship fight; the winner may not get the title, per se, but he will qualify himself for a spot where he can see that nobody else does, either.

There may be as many as 45,000 in the Stadium and as much as $225,000.

Twelve Thousand See Michiel-Farr Battle

Belgian Featherweight Champ Entitled To Shade Decision

FIGHTS FAY KOSKY HERE MONDAY NIGHT

By ED FRITZ

Twelve thousand spectators last night at Idora park, Youngstown, saw Willie Michiel, featherweight champion of Belgium capture a shade over Johnny Farr, rugged Clevelander in a thrilling ring tilt. The bout was staged by the police department of Youngstown.

Michiel is matched to fight the hard-hitting Fay Kosky of Chicago next Monday night at the Jolly bowl while Farr is one of the country's best featherweights. Michiel's boxing won the hearts of the fans and they were brought to their feet time and again by the slugs.

The Belgian started slowly and for the first round or two fans believed that Johnny's rushes and his ruggedness would ultimately bring him victory. After the second however, the Belgian out boxed his speed and his cleverness carried him ahead of Farr.

In a mixup in the center of the ring in the fourth round Farr went down, either from a blow or a slip but he was up fighting mad and they slugged viciously for the rest of the round. Michiel had far the best at long range but Farr excelled at close quarters.

Later in the bout Michiel's rapier left closed one of Farr's eyes and they slugged repeatedly all over the ring in the closing round. Farr flashed for the tenth round and he took the last round. However Michiel's earlier lead plainly entitled him to a shade.

Michiel proved a real surprise package to the fans of Youngstown and after the battle they gave him a great ovation as he left the ring. He is a very clever boxer, fairly good puncher and like Willie Davies depends considerably on gray matter to carry him through.

After the contest the writer met him in the Ohio hotel. He had a slight bruise over his right eye but otherwise showed none of the marks customary after a grueling bout. "Farr is a good boy," said the Belgian. "Although last night's encounter was with one of the hardest punchers and most rugged featherweights now fighting Michiel did not like it to his bout with Earl Mastro, Chicago. I beat Mastro but they saw the decision to Earl," said the foreigner.

"I'll never forget that fight. Ugh! He hit me in the mouth and I lost two front teeth. It was the first time I had ever been hurt so. I paid him back. I dropped him on the floor and he got up and boy, what a fight we had."

It was a show that not only resulted in a thrilling fight but put a lot of money in the vaults for the police. It is to be used for the welfare of police who meet with adversity while doing their duty and naturally everybody went to the fight.

Police directed the seating and they were on the job every minute. They were well satisfied with the bout as were the fans and no doubt hundreds of Youngstown fans will come here to see Michiel fight Kosky, who we believe is as good or better than Farr. Michiel will reach here Sunday, likewise Kosky. They will romp to unloosen stiff muscles. Mickie Farr, a brother to Johnny will take on Leo Mozdy and Bat Thomas, Cleveland will go against Joey Novak of Erie. Young Oney and Young Ezer, the former of the East Side and latter of Beaver Falls will fight at 122 pounds in a four rounder and the show will be opened by two heavyweights, Young Fluno of the Elm stable and Young Eddy of Sagamore, Pa.

The steam department indoor baseball team of the Carnegie steel mill, defeated the Machine Shop team, 38 to 24, in a close game played at the Carnegie auditorium on Tuesday evening.

Jarrett, on the mound for the steam department, pitched a fine game, and in addition was the slugger of the game, hitting a home run with the bases loaded and having five other hits besides Vaughn, Tully and Johnson pitched well for the steamers, allowing only 55 hits and keeping them well scattered, all over the auditorium. Don't blame the cynic. The world would seem rotten to you, also, if daylight found you with the same kind of head.

New Wilmington High Will Open Season Friday

Harrisville High To Be Opponent On College Field

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 26.—Straining with eagerness in their efforts to win starting places in the opening game of the schedule against Harrisville high, Friday afternoon, New Wilmington high grid aspirants are daily being exposed to intense drill in line and aerial attack. Sapped by graduation which makes available but five lettermen, and faced with a new coaching system the Wilmington school's season outlook is puzzling and its strength unknown.

The new coach, Arnold Karsten, guard and tackle on Northwestern University's Conference championship team of 1929 and regular on that school's team of the succeeding year, is endeavoring to compensate lack of weight by instruction in plays designed for speed and deception. If yesterday's dummy scrimmage suggests anything of work under actual game conditions, then Karsten's club will present fast, scrappy football when it faces Harrisville on the Westminster college field this week.

In the backfield, Captain Darr Hartwell and Bob Neal have shown the way in halfback competition while the fullback position seems destined for Ken Myers. William White appears as the likely quarterback in the initial tilt.

The tentative arrangement on the line shows C. McCrum and P. Spears at the terminals; Brownlee and H. Lee at the tackle points; B. McCrum and P. Klumph as guards; with R. Gillian at the pivot place. D. Davis, R. Klumph, Jr., McMains, and Paul Greer are reserves.

The tentative schedule for New Wilmington high's 1929 grid players is as follows:

Sept. 27—Harrisville at home.
Oct. 5—Sandy Lake at Sandy Lake.
Oct. 11—Hickory at Hickory.
Oct. 18—Union at home.
Oct. 25—Shenango at home.
Nov. 1—Bessemer at home.
Nov. 15—West Middlesex at home.

Yankees, brought Huggins to New York. His start here was not auspicious. His players at first refused to respect him. Col. Huston was his sworn enemy, and many sports writers and followers were opposed to him. During that period Huggins was the butt for newspaper attacks that would have completely wrecked the nerve of a lesser man than Hug; but he continued to bear down.

The result was a pennant winner in 1921 and a world's championship in 1923. Since that time he has won six pennants and three world series. A record equaled only by Connie Mack, who was a baseball manager when Huggins broke into the game as a rookie.

Ott And Klein Seek Honors In Home Run Field

Babe Ruth May See New Home Run King Crowned This Year; Ott Hits His 42nd

By HENRY McLEMORE International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Cases to be piled No. 331: Babe Ruth. A few days ago it seemed as if the Babe's home run crown was secure for another year—now it appears that unless he slips out of his slump the crown may adorn more classical brows.

For Mr. Ott, Giant white hope, went off on a spree and ran his total to 42 yesterday, as the Phillies trimmed the Robins two, 10-9 and 8-5. Chuck Klein blasted a couple for 41.

Making their farewell appearance at the Polo grounds for the year, the Braves bowed to the Giants, 3 to 4. It was announced that Dutch Henry, Giant southpaw, had been released by the waiver route to the White Sox.

Grabowski Wins Again. Al Grabowski, Card rookie finger, chalked up his 25th consecutive scoreless inning by blanking the Reds, 8 to 0.

Pittsburgh and Chicago were not scheduled. Despite their grief over the death of their leader, Miller Huggins, the Yankees trimmed the Red Sox, 11 to 10, after 11 innings, in their second place. A Philadelphia scouting party watched the past champions perform.

After allowing but two hits up until the ninth inning, Earl Whitfield weakened and the Browns scored twice to trim the Tigers, 3 to 2. Glenn Myatt's home run with two on in the ninth gave the Indians a 9 to 7 win over the White Sox. Philadelphia and Washington were not scheduled.

"Gibby" Welch Has Signed Up In Providence

(International News Service) PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 26.—"Gibby" Welch, who ceased annoying Pittsburgh University's gridiron opponents last year, only to resume the same slippery tactics under the banner of the New York Yankee pro outfit, has signed up for a ball carrying job with the Providence Steam Rollers.

With the addition of Welch to the Steam Roller roster, prospects for an other championship team in the professional league appear bright as a brass button. With the abdication of Curly Oden the Providence eleven was left short-handed in respect to capable backs, and the advent of the former Sooty City ace will assure the Rollers of a pair of the flashiest broken field runners in the game.

For in addition to the cyclonic Welch the local club retains the valuable services of "Wildcat" Wilson, another of those one-man backfields who can pass, kick and run the secondary defense ragged with equal skill.

Welch had his biggest year in 1927, when he sidestepped his way into practically every all-American election in the country. He led the greatest team ever turned out by Pittsburgh and was easily the greatest single factor in its uninterrupted march through the eastern college opposition.

The Smoky town's eleven ran into a rose-strewn Waterloo at Pasadena that year, dropping a post-season game to Stanford by a self-explanatory score of 7-6.

Effective Punter. Like Wilson, "Gibby," who was once known to have been addressed as Gilbert, functions effectively as a punter, pass dispatcher or receiver, line perforator and broken field runner. It is understood that the Roller management was forced to quote the highest figures ever whispered into a pro football star's ear before Welch affixed his signature to a contract, "Gibby" was thrown on the open market by the recent dissolution of the New York Yankees.

Hornsby at second base can't miss. He hasn't Critz's speed and hocus-pocus stuff in the field but neither has Critz a half dozen other things that go to make Hornsby the great man he is, even when beyond the flush of youth. Grove is just as certain to get a 100 per cent vote as one of the pitchers and I presume that Bush of the Cubs is entitled to the other place.

Simmons Favorable. Perhaps both Simmons and Wilson aren't due to make the team but, in any case, the one left over would get the outfield utility job. Which one would that be? You can write your own prescription on that, although generable opinion will be inclined to regard Simmons as the better man. The real tip off, however, will come

This World Series To Tell Tale About Our All-Star Ball Players

By DAVIS J. WALSH International News Service Staff Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Is Simmons a better outfielder than Wilson? Does Fox really outrank the National league field as the leading first baseman? How good is Cochrane in comparison with catchers in the rival league?

It isn't often that you get the all-star ball players of the country under scrutiny at one and the same time. Usually these moot points have to be settled in privacy with the customary punch on the nose but this time the eye itself will make the settlement and the nose can have a rest. The world series between the Cubs and Athletics will feature as many as seven of the 10 or 11 men who figure to break into any all-star team selected.

Hornsby at second base can't miss. He hasn't Critz's speed and hocus-pocus stuff in the field but neither has Critz a half dozen other things that go to make Hornsby the great man he is, even when beyond the flush of youth. Grove is just as certain to get a 100 per cent vote as one of the pitchers and I presume that Bush of the Cubs is entitled to the other place.

Simmons Favorable. Perhaps both Simmons and Wilson aren't due to make the team but, in any case, the one left over would get the outfield utility job. Which one would that be? You can write your own prescription on that, although generable opinion will be inclined to regard Simmons as the better man. The real tip off, however, will come in the series where they can be compared, man to man and move for move.

Nobody, for example, would have named Jimmy Wilson for an all-star team after the 1928 games. He was the leading catcher of the league before the series and barely the leading catcher of the Cardinals after it was over. The big series is as good a place as any to decide whether a man really belongs or not.

For this reason, everybody will be watching Cochrane. Here is a catcher who is supposed to have everything—speed, arm, brains, punch, enthusiasm. They not only compare him to Kling, Bresnahan, Ewing and other immortals; some of them claim that he is the greatest of all ages. Will he fool them and fumble his great chance? It doesn't seem possible. Cochrane has yet to fall down in any pinch and it isn't likely that he will do it when the biggest of them all comes along. If Hartnett is ready, which isn't probable, a comparison between the two stand-out catchers will be more than interesting. It will be a little world series of its own.

Many Disagree. Fox got Mator's disapproval as the All-American first baseman but many disagreed and some of them rather violently. James can write the baseball but he isn't the most modish of first basemen, so the deep students have decided that Billy Terry of the Giants was and is a more plausible candidate. Be that as it might, Fox is no worse than very good at anything he does and remains, per se, as one of front row names in the group portrait of 1929 celebrities.

The rear row will have a few representatives—Cuyler, Stephenson, Haas, Dykes, etc.—in this series, too. In fact, the affair has everything in the way of talent; all it needs is a few dramatic values. If it gets these, it ought to be a wow.

in the till when they ring the bell at or about ten o'clock, Eastern Daylight Time, tonight. The Garden Corporation may need more than this to get their books out of the carmine on the proposition but, considering the general apathy of the populace toward all boxing and the fact that neither man is supposed to be a puncher, the gate is doing well enough.

tive that the gentlemen involved do not care for each other in a big way. This will be something of a "hate" fight and that kind always looks good, even when they hit each other terrific clouts on the palm of the hand.

Both were on the scene this morning, Sharkey having come in from his camp at Orangeburg yesterday for a final workout at a gymnasium. Loughran arriving from Harvey's however, that even money would pre-Lake, Pa., intine to spend the night vail at gong time.

The gamblers had the latter leading in the betting at 6 to 5 last night, although the Garden crowd had this price receding in its last minute publicity. It was by no means unlikely, and Loughran arriving from Harvey's however, that even money would pre-Lake, Pa., intine to spend the night vail at gong time.

Ball Players Worth Million In Big Series

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—There will be almost one million dollars worth of human value out there in plain view when the world series gets under way in Chicago on the afternoon of October 8. Mr. Mack alone will produce more than $300,000 worth as the Athletics take the field, for he has been a noted spendthrift during recent years and if it hadn't been for the fact that he picked up men like Fox and Dykes for barefoot money he would have virtually a million dollars going out there on the field for him almost every day.

These estimates, by the way, are made on the basis of cost of players when they came to the two clubs, and not on their estimated value now.

Expensive Players
Hornsbey and Grove are the most expensive luxuries in the list. No outsider really knows just how much Hornsbey's release cost the Cubs. It might have been $100,000, considering the fact that the Cubs were taking a long-term contract as $40,000 a year of Boston's chest. Grove allegedly was purchased from Baltimore for a trick amount, $100,000, or something like that.

It is obvious, anyhow, that this pair alone cost almost a quarter of the million dollars that will be romping about on the greensward in this series.

Others whose estimated expense didn't come out of the petty cash are: Simmons, $50,000; Cochrane, $50,000; Hale, $50,000; Boley and Bishop, probably $80,000 together; Earnshaw, probably $30,000; Cuyler, probably $50,000, including Earl Adams, Floyd Scott and money. Carlson, $25,000 in the same commodities.

Others on List
This list is not a count of men like "Big" Miller, Grimm and the many others obtained in trades, or the players who were purchased for comparatively nominal sums, such as Blake, Bush, English, Hartnett, Malone, Root and Wilson, who was drafted; Cronin, Hass, French, Quinn, Rommel, Walberg and others.

Yes, there will be close to a million dollars on the hoof out there when the ball begins.

State Would Route Main Highways On Outskirts Of Cities

Begin Study Of Traffic Conditions In Larger Cities With This End In View

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25.—Constantly increasing traffic volume, with resultant congestion in all the larger cities of the state has caused the department of highways to begin a study of belt line routes which will permit through traffic to skirt outlying sections. It was announced today.

The first study will be made in Philadelphia. When the engineers complete their report on the Philadelphia situation the study will be made in other cities. Philadelphia's "City Line Avenue" no longer serves its purpose as the city has spread far beyond it, members of the highway department pointed out.

City traffic is divided by highway engineers into the following six classifications:

Local delivery, serving business houses and private homes.

Local transit passenger service.

Employees driving to and from work.

Local and suburban residents intra-city.

Tourists, visiting.

Tourists, through.

The first three groups, it was said, must of necessity use existing routes.

Providing alternate routes for the other three classes is the main object of the studies which will be made.

The desire of the average motorists to take what looks like the shortest distance on the map, regardless of the time which will be required, adds to downtown traffic congestion, engineers said.

It was believed that tourists who have no desire to visit any section of the city thru which they pass will be glad of opportunities to avoid heavy traffic in the heart of the larger cities.

Bridge May Be Used This Week, Engineer States

Await Hardening Of Concrete On North Street Span; Work Completed

The North street bridge over the Neshannock creek should be thrown open for traffic the latter part of this week, County Engineer "A. A. Gilkey" announced this morning. County commissioners have left the matter of opening the bridge entirely with him.

The bridge itself and the abutments have been completed but concrete on the span has not hardened sufficiently to allow traffic to pass over. The span will be thrown open to the public just as soon as it has dried sufficiently, Mr. Gilkey said.

The engineer expressed the opening as only a matter of several days away.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

To the already large choice of scenic highway in this section, add another, and a white it is, the Perry Highway. Now to a lot of you old timers who were raised around North Liberty, or Drake or Schoellards or Harlansburg, the Perry Highway is nothing new. But there are thousands of people who know it only by name, and while I had been over it it never looked quite as pretty as it did yesterday afternoon.

Made a trip to Leesburg, and while Leesburg has no municipal airport, nor a theatre section, it is quite a place. Only two hundred people call it home, but the homes have that air that bespeak real living.

But about the Perry Highway. From Harlansburg north, there is a stretch of about four miles of dirt, in good shape, before you get to the concrete which has just been laid. Tom Frame the district engineer never did a nicer job of engineering on a road than he has done on this, for it has no bad turns, no steep ascents and the eye can follow it for a couple of miles ahead in spots.

The contract has been let for the stretch between the end of the present concrete and the Butler road, which is about seven miles and by this time next year the Perry Highway will be an accomplished fact in Lawrence, Mercer and Butler counties.

As I drove along the highway there seemed to be a lot of ghostly noises just ahead all the time. Long wagon trains, creaked their way, speeding drivers urged their horses to greater lengths and guns rolled along.

Soldiers and sailors on foot wiped their brows as they slogged along, and the talk was about Erie, where they were going. Their commander Commodore Perry was waiting for them it seemed and the guns and equipment were for his use in the Lake Erie fleet.

It has been over a hundred years since that scene stretched out along the highway and yet their spirits seemed to be all along the highway yesterday. They were on their way to take part in a battle that meant much to the success of the United States in the northwest and many of the men who slogged along that road probably never came back.

The Perry Highway will be a monument, if you please, to the memory of Oliver Hazard Perry who with a bunch of wooden "tubs" handed the vaunted navy of John Bull quite a tasty sock in the whiskers.

There are still some remains of that battle up in Erie but, if the State of Pennsylvania continues its niggardly practices where relics are concerned, some of them will be missing in a few years. You may not know it, but the flag of Perry's fleet, the "Niagara" is lying in a backwater inlet of Lake Erie, rotting away like some derelict coal barge.

The wood is rotting, the sun and air bent down on it year after year and around it are the wrecks of the lake, towed into this graveyard of ships to keep company with what was once the pride of the United States.

The "Niagara" was sunk right after the Battle of Lake Erie and for 100 years it lay on the bottom of Misery Bay. In 1912 it was raised and for a time occupied its place in the sun. Then—forgetfulness. We like to make Fourth of July speeches about the grand old flag and the glory of the arms of the country, and the name of Perry incites us to give three rousing cheers. But thus far three cheers is all we have given the grand little flag ship "Niagara." A few thousand dollars would be sufficient to rehabilitate it, raise it from the waters of the lake and put it on a concrete base where it could be displayed for the inspiration and edification of the school children to come.

The theme has strayed far from the Perry Highway, but the very name brings back the picture of that flag-ship rotting away in the stinking back waters of Lake Erie.

Saturday the folks of Leesburg will hold a big celebration opening their stretch of concrete on the Perry Highway and according to Lem Drake, who is the village barber, it is going to be "some time." If you haven't anything to do take a run up there. You can get to Leesburg either by way of Harlansburg, by East Brook, by Volant or by Mercer. The road via East Brook is probably the shortest, although it is worth the extra distance to go in from Harlansburg.

Clay Reeves has qualified for the Croix de Paving according to the residents of North Jefferson street. The bump at the crest of the hill has been repaired and a very annoying nuisance has been removed. The folks up there appreciate this prompt action.

Phil Elder, who is one of the county commissioners is already talking hunting. He modestly claims to be one of the world's best hunters and insists that he is going to prove it to me this fall. Never went hunting but once in my life and that was years ago as a kid. About six of us and a dog and one rifle went out looking for rabbits and we scared a bunny to death.

Get set for Friday evening's football game. If you are smart tomorrow night you will park your car far away from the stadium and walk in. You'll save a lot of confusion for yourself. And another thing you will save a lot of pulling and hauling if you get in early. At 8 o'clock it will look like a Republican national convention.

Fathers And Sons Banquet At Trinity

Round Makes Address On "Lights Golden Jubilee"—Dickey Presides

Annual Fathers and Sons banquet of Trinity Episcopal church held last evening in the guildroom of the church under the auspices of the Men's Club of the parish was a decidedly successful event, with approximately one hundred fathers and sons of the parish and special invited guests in attendance.

The guildroom and dinner tables were attractively decorated and an excellent dinner was served by the ladies of the church. The evening was opened with the singing of America by those present, after which Rev. P. C. Pearson, rector of the church, asked that the divine blessing might be on the meeting and those present.

During the serving of the dinner, Jack Jones presided at the piano and rendered a number of vocal and piano selections, which proved most enjoyable.

L. J. Lewis, president of the Men's Club, then introduced Thomas W. Dickey, Esq., as toastmaster, who proceeded to get the program of the evening under way in his well known and inimitable way.

The toastmaster introduced L. B. Round, manager of the New Castle district of the Penn-Ohio System, as the speaker of the evening and Mr. Round at once launched into his discussion on "Lights Golden Jubilee" and the man who made it possible—Thomas A. Edison.

Mr. Round said among other things that he thought it was well to honor Mr. Edison, especially as he is living, for what he had done for the world, in not only making possible the present day wonderful lighting effects, but for the things that it has made possible in a scientific handling of surgery and the relief of mankind.

Mr. Edison's people were natives of Holland and came to New Jersey in 1793, moving after a time to Nova Scotia. In 1842, the parents of Edison migrated to Milan, O., then the center of the canal transportation system of Ohio. It was there on February 11, 1847, that Thomas A. Edison was born.

In the course of time, the Edison family moved to Port Huron, Michigan, where Edison received his only education, three months in the public schools of that place. Fortunately for him, his mother was an educated woman, having been a school teacher and she taught him regularly and most helpfully. Edison in those days was weak and did not progress as rapidly as others. His genius began to show itself, however, and he was always experimenting. His first job was that of what was termed a "News Butcher" in other words a newspaper salesman on a train.

He received his first patent in 1863 and strangely enough it was for an automatic voting machine. From 1872 to 1875 he had a part in the perfection of stock tickers and multiple circuits on telegraph lines. It was through this that he received funds that made it possible for him to move from Newark, N. J., to Menlo Park, where he has been located ever since. In 1877, he invented the phonograph. In 1879, he finally perfected a filament for an electric light from a small piece of carbonized thread, after trying 1600 different things. He has since perfected that and is now engaged in an effort to find a substitute for rubber.

Mr. Round concluded his remarks by exhibiting a replica of the original lamp invented by Edison and a 100 watt lamp of today. The latter gives ten times as much light with the same amount of current. The nation will honor Edison on October 21st, the fiftieth anniversary of the making of the first incandescent lamp. Souvenirs of the anniversary were distributed among those present in the shape of facsimile copies of the New York Herald announcing the invention in 1879 and small medals or pocket pieces.

The address of Mr. Round was followed by short addresses by Rev. P. C. Pearson, W. T. Butz and W. J. Erce, after which the affair came to an end.

Famous last words: "The way he's holding his hand out, I guess he's going to turn right."
